4 SURVIVORS OF ARMY SHIP ARE RESCUED

Other 44 Members of Crew Believed Dead as Transport Breaks in Two.

(Picture on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, Nov. 27.—Four shocked, chilled survivors and the bodies of four other crew members were found yesterday on the beached bow section of the shattered Army transport Clarksdale Victory, and the second mate said he thought the other 44 crewmen went to the bottom in the stern half of the broken ship.

The Coast Guard said 2nd Mate Henry H. Wolfe of Oakland, Calif., informed his rescuers that no survivors were able to get away in lifeboats after the ship rammed onto rocky little Hippa Island Monday night and broke apart under the hammering of the rough sea.

Suffering from Shock

The survivors were reported suffering from shock as well as from the long salt water exposure of their feet.

Other survivors reported by the Coast Guard rescue party were 3rd Mate William M. Rasmussen, Modesto, Calif., and Clair E. Driscoll, Los Angeles, and Seaman Carlos Sanabria, Honduras.

The Coast Guard said two of the bodies were identified as those of Kenneth J. Bower, an assistant engineer from Wolfforth, Texas, and Peter J. Roman, Midland, Pa. The identities of the other two bodies were not reported.

Late yesterday afternoon a Coast Guard plane messaged it had sighted a "vertical stick" upright in the water about 100 yards astern of the grounded bow section.

"Appears to be mast of after section of ship," the message said. "When weather permits will have surface boat investigate."

Attempts were being made to place the four survivors aboard a Coast Guard cutter late yesterday afternoon and they may be brought into Ketchikan, the Coast Guard said. The cutter will probably not leave the vicinity, however, until it is definitely determined there are no more survivors on the island.

Bow Section on Beach.

The 10,850-ton transport, southbound with cargo, hit the rocky island, off the northern British Columbia coast 140 miles southwest of here, so hard that the bow section was high on the beach, with its nose in the woods, when the sea subsided yesterday.

A PBY plane dropped stretchers to the rescuers for transfer of the four survivors and the three dead across the island to the leeward side. They will be evacuated by Coast Guard cutter or airplane. The cutter Wachusetts, which was standing by, was reported to have a doctor aboard. Another cutter, the Citrus, which sent the 12-man landing party which discovered the survivors, also was at the scene.

ONE-FOOT SNOWFALL BLANKETS ASHTABULA

By The Associated Press

ASHTABULA, O., Nov. 27—More than a foot of snow, which drifted in some areas to three-foot depths, blanketed this area last night after heavy storms which tied up traffic, stranded travelers and delayed busses.

City and county snow plows battled drifts which began to pile up Tuesday. Busses from the east were running one and one-half to two hours late. U. S. route 20 was open, but hazardous.

Many holiday travelers abandoned their plans to get through, filled the local hotels and swamped the long distance operators with telephone calls.

Heavy, wet snow fell all day for about 25 miles around Ashtabula and eastward in Pennsylvania.

Conneaut also was covered by a heavy snowfall, but Youngstown reported only a light fall.

Yule Shopping Season Officially Launched by Stores in Marion

By EDNA S. DUTTON

23 SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

It's the time for a warm smile, a cheerful greeting, a hearty handshake—it's the time to experience the joyous thrill of giving and receiving.

And as colorful as the tinsel and lights on a Christmas tree are the topnotch selections to be found in Marion stores.

Officially launched is the 1947 Yuletide shopping season. Store windows, transformed into fairylands with gifts for baby, for her, for him, for sister, for brother, for mother and dad, are arrayed in the season's best and shelves and counters are teeming with gay, useful and beautiful gifts.

This season's shoppers will find a more generous supply of almost everything than in previous postwar years, and quality and selections will be higher and more varied. Some items, such as nylons and electrical equipment are still on the "hard to get" lists.

Variety of Toys

For babies and youngsters up through three, four and five years, there are all types of toys, doll babies with magic skin to be scrubbed, brother and sister dolls, unbreakable dolls, plastic blocks, babies with complete layettes, animated storybooks, jigsaw puzzles and for the musically inclined baby grand pianos, woodwinds with complete musical scores. For those who would give practical gifts there are dresses, snow suits, raincoats, blankets, and myriads of other wearables to select from. For the near teenagers and their older sisters and brothers there are books to lure them to far away scenes and peoples, games and mechanical toys and gadgets as well as science kits and drawing equipment.

For the fairer sex there are to be found myriads of lovely gifts from household furnishings to personal adornment. What girl wouldn't be thrilled to pirouette through the gala holiday season in an evening gown fashioned in the ballerina style and evening gown. Materials are moires, marquisettes, taffetas, plain and striped, peplum trimmed, laces and self-trimmed. Drop shoulder effects are popular and attractive. Evening wraps are long and short, sequin and fur trimmed.

For the Practical Minded

If you're in a practical mood there are raincoats, shepherd checks, glenn plaids and plain gabardines, and many have hoods and are ripple backs, and in the lingerie line there are robes and negligees, bed jackets, nightgowns and pajamas. Delightful to behold are the lace trimmed silk nightgowns, some made with peplums and others with bustle effects. And there is always the fur coat,

SENATE PUTS OFF AID VOTE TILL MONDAY

Postponement Decided on After Defeat of Proposed Slash to $400,000,000.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—The senate yesterday postponed until Monday its final vote on the $597,000,000 emergency authorization for European winter aid.

Before the decision was reached, the members defeated, 56 to 30, a proposal sponsored by eight Republicans to cut the total to a flat $400,000,000.

The original timetable called for final action on the bill today. But late in the afternoon, with several amendments pending, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said it would be willing to delay final action until Monday.

Senator Vandenberg, president pro tempore and chairman of the foreign relations committee which approved the $597,000,000 figure, spearheaded the fight against the reduction, proposed by eight Republican colleagues.

"I know of no advantage in throwing a 15-foot rope to a man that is drowning 20 feet from the shore," Vandenberg told the senate.

Presented by First Termer

As the bill pushed toward passage, Senator Malone, first termer from Nevada, presented an amendment to trim the total from $597,000,000 to $400,000,000. He was joined by Senators Bricker of Ohio, Kem of Missouri, Williams of Delaware, Wilson of Iowa, Ecton of Montana, Dworshak of Idaho and Jenner of Indiana.

Vandenberg had declared in opening the debate Monday that $597,000,000 was a "rockbottom" minimum, "cut to the bone." The money would go to furnish essential needs of France, Italy and Austria. Separate legislation is required to appropriate it.

Although Republican leaders predicted defeat for Malone's amendment, they admitted the debate might upset their plans for a final vote yesterday. The house has not acted.

Earlier, the senate shouted down an amendment which would have allocated specific sums for the recipient countries. Senator Donnell (R-Mo) had proposed setting a $42,000,000 limit on aid to Austria, $328,000,000 to France, and $227,000,000 to Italy.

Vandenberg opposed any such earmarking on the ground it would imply an obligation to make those sums available. He said the relief operations must be "geared to our own available commodities" and said the United States ought to keep out of "a strait jacket."

Before Malone and his seven colleagues introduced their amendment, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, had predicted some of the young-

U.S. SECRETARY CALLS FOR END OF BICKERING

Russian Spokesman Charges "Imperialism" Raises Specter of War.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 27—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in a slashing attack upon "imperialist" forces raised the specter of a third world war before the foreign ministers last night, and Secretary Marshall replied he was convinced Molotov "does not really believe his allegations."

The American secretary of state, scribbling hastily as Molotov read from a 2,800 word statement, delivered this plea:

"Let us get down to work and drop this business of alleging evil motives which are figments of propaganda, not of mind, and logically endeavor to reach an agreement for the benefit of the entire world.

"We need to promote tranquility instead of bitterness and misunderstanding."

Despite this sharp clash, as reported by officials who briefed newsmen on the second session of the foreign ministers council, Molotov and the ministers of the western powers succeeded in resolving their differences over priority on items on the conference agenda.

Molotov agreed to putting the Austrian treaty in the number one spot with the provision it be referred immediately to the deputies for resolving of outstanding differences. This was done in short order.

Give German Treaty Priority

Marshall and the western powers gave way to Molotov's demand for discussing preparation of a German peace treaty ahead of economic and political unification of Germany.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin commented on Molotov's speech that "apparently we are all war mongers—there is only one saint, the Soviet union, and the others come from down below." French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said he did not think Molotov's remarks contributed to Big Four harmony.

Molotov charged western powers were blocking a German peace treaty, imperialistically seeking to enslave small nations and trying to tear down the German economy to avoid competition and build up the German war potential.

Seen Aimed at Germans

The speech was similar to charges he made at the conference in Moscow last April, and western observers believed it was intended for its effect upon the German people rather than his council table colleagues.

He said the Soviet union was prepared to devote its full time to a German peace treaty and without a European peace no world peace was possible.

He declared after the war two types of peace proposals sprang up—one "democratic" and the other "imperialistic." The latter, he added, did not respect the sovereignty of nations and was designed to establish favored positions for some larger powers.

Molotov said this created "slave states" and would lead in turn to a "third world war."

Molotov declared a democratic Germany must be created as outlined at Potsdam and it must be a Germany that must fulfill its obligation to its victims.

He then charged the western powers with trying to prevent the economic survival of Germany because they feared competition on world markets, and at the same time with revitalizing only those parts of Germany which could provide a war potential.

Bevin said the Soviet charges should be treated "with the humor they deserve," but Marshall appealed in a serious vein for the second straight day for an end of "bitterness and misunderstanding."

FARMERS WANT TRUE PICTURE

Object To Taking Blame for Present High Cost of Living.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27 — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation intensified its efforts yesterday to defend farmers from "misleading statements and comparisons" which it said were being "widely circulated to convince the public that farmers are to blame" for high food prices.

Delegates in the Federation's annual convention unanimously approved a resolution calling for the bureau to "intensify its efforts to present correct information to non-farmers regarding farm prices and retail food prices."

The resolution was among 115 presented at the final session. Among those adopted were:

A demand that a study of cooperative principles be incorporated in the curriculum of every teacher-training college and its public schools. The resolution also urged county farm bureau committees to cooperate with public school authorities in securing course improvements "that will adequately meet the needs of rural youth."

Want Sales Tax Change

A demand that the state sales tax law be amended to eliminate "vagaries, loopholes, conflicts or mistakes" under which, the federation claims, merchants are profiting from collection of the tax.

A recommendation that the state highway patrol be given statewide police powers to supplement law enforcement officers of subsidiary governmental units.

A proposal for creation of a new state conservation department with control over all natural resources.

The resolutions also included reaffirmations of the bureau's stand against permitting sale of colored oleomargarine, asking abolition of alcoholic beverage advertisements, and requesting legislation which would permit insurance companies to insure farm owners against injury claims of employes.

Evidence on Resolution

The resolution asking defense of the farmers pointed out that in 1940, 23 per cent of the population was engaged in farming, but received only 6.9 per cent of the national income.

"Even in 1947 it is estimated that farmers will constitute 18 per cent of the population, but will receive only 11 per cent of the national income. * * * they further neglect to emphasize the fact that this year food production is setting a new all-time record of 40 per cent above the 1935-39 level," the resolution declared.

Voluntary Reward in Gerbes Slaying To Be Nearly $1,000

Reward money offered for the arrest and conviction of Edwin D. Young, under indictment here for the murder of Mrs. Zora Gerbes, may total $1,000 when friends of the family and public spirited citizens have completed filling up petitions asking for voluntary donations to boost the $200 now posted for the slayer of the 25-year-old Marion woman.

Lee Kellis, stepfather of Mrs. Gerbes whose lifeless but still warm body was found trussed up with a clothesline in the St. Paul's Lutheran churchyard southeast of the city shortly after midnight July 10, said today that at least $700 was anticipated from the 17 petitions now circulating in the city. The $200 reward now offered was contributed personally by Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and Prosecutor James E. Reed.

Kellis said the response has been gratifying to the appeal made for funds to boost the reward total. Petitions now in circulation were sent out by church and friends of the Kellis family this week and will be picked up next Monday, he said.

Friends Assist

Instrumental in aiding with the petitions have been church friends of the family including Rev. Melvin Truex, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union at 821 North State street, Clyde Payne of 384 Lee street and Robert Dull of 181 Wallace.

Meanwhile Marion County Sheriff LeRoy Retterer is holding up the printing of an additional 1,500 "flyers" until the final total of the money offered has been compiled. Sheriff Retterer said today that mats of Young's fingerprints, his photo, criminal record and other data was already at the printers. The "flyers," he said, will probably be run off next week.

Sheriffs in all counties west of the Mississippi are slated to receive one with additional cards sent to police headquarters in key cities in the western states, many of which have already been notified.

Fled Four Months Ago

Despite the fact that the murderer fled the state more than four months ago and apparently has dropped out of sight after being traced to Colorado, a more or less steady stream of "leads" have kept the sheriff in commu-

TWO "SILENT" MOVIE EXECUTIVES FIRED

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27—R-K-O studio announced tonight the dismissal of producer Adrian Scott and director Edward Dymtryk, two of the 10 film executives who were adjudged in contempt of a house of representatives committee for refusing to state whether or not they were Communists.

It was the first overt result of the decision of a group of major film executives in New York yesterday to dismiss the 10 adjudged in contempt of the committee for refusing to answer the direct question whether they were Communist party members.

Both Scott and Dmytryk are regarded as top men in the industry, and are in the $3,000 to $5,000 weekly salary bracket. Scott produced and Dmytryk directed R-K-O's recent film "Cross-Fire," an expose of anti-Semitism which attracted wide attention.

The film company, in curt notices of dismissal, said:

"By your conduct (in refusing to answer the questions) and by your actions, attitude, public statements and general conduct before, at, and since that time, you have brought yourself into disrepute with large sections of the public, have offended the community, have prejudiced this corporation as your employer and the motion picture industry in general, have lessened your capacity fully to comply with your employment agreement x x x and have otherwise violated your employment agreement with us."

FOOD SHIPMENTS SET

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — A spokesman for the national friendship food train committee said yesterday approximately 12,000 tons of food collected during the train's transcontinental journey would be sent to Europe in four ships next month.

Prison Escapee Arrested After Eleven Years Is Given Freedom

By The Associated Press

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Nov. 27—Eleven years of repentance for a crime he committed in 1928 paid off yesterday for James Robert Collins when he walked out of the Bucks county courthouse—a free man.

Collins, who escaped in 1936 from an Alabama prison where he was serving a life sentence for complicity in bank holdup in which the bank president was killed, was released on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by his attorney, C. William Freed Sr.

"It certainly feels wonderful," Collins said as he left with the Rev. Michael Ciesof, his parish priest, for the Collins home in Quakertown where his wife and two sons awaited him.

The fugitive warrant on which he was arrested by his friend of many years—Sheriff H. Raymond Ahlum—was withdrawn late yesterday by Gov. James N. Folsom of Alabama.

Gov. Folsom withdrew the warrant after Freed advised him that Collins was willing to return to Alabama voluntarily and plead his case before the state board of pardons.

Since his arrest on Oct. 27, residents of Quakertown—where Collins had built up a well-drilling business and was highly regarded—had joined with many Alabamans, including members of the jury which convicted him, in asking clemency.

Collins, who was 16 at the time of the bank holdup, served as a lookout for two older men. One was killed in the holdup and the other was electrocuted. Collins escaped from the Speigner, Ala. prison by walking away from a work gang.

Letters to his parents in Mobile, Ala., resulted in authorities learning of his whereabouts.

Crash Near Crestline Is Fatal to Minister

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 27—Rev. Raymond Krans, 27, Perrysburg, O., was killed last night in a truck-automobile accident west of Crestline. A daughter, Delores, 3, and Mary Ann Wilkerson, 16, of Mansfield, were reported seriously injured. Rev. Krans had been conducting a youth revival here the last two weeks.

Plane Crash in Snow Kills 2 Army Fliers

By The Associated Press

ELYRIA, O., Nov. 27.—Caught in a blinding snowstorm, two Army flyers were killed yesterday near North Eaton, southeast of here, when their AT-6 training plane crashed and burned on a farm.

Names of the two, both residents of Ohio, were withheld temporarily by army officials pending notification of the next of kin.

Public Information Officer James Kyle of the Cleveland Army air base said the ship took off from the field there for Mansfield, O., at 4:40 p. m. The cause of the crash was not determined immediately.

VIOLENCE RENEWED AS STRIKES SPREAD

By The Associated Press

FRANCE — Violence breaks out at scattered points as strikes spread; Lyon marchers dispersed by tear gas; government expels 19 Russians for alleged interference in labor situation.

ROME — Italian press reports general strike in Italy is to be coordinated with general strike in France, but Communists issue denial. Thousands of workers still idle.

HELSINKI — 40,000 civil service employes strike against leftist-headed government, tie up railroads, schools, ports, communication services. Observers fear blow against "middle class."

One of Child's Five Kidneys Is Removed

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 — Four-year-old Betty Seipp was recovering today after an operation for removal of one of her five kidneys, a case described by physicians as "one in a million."

Dr. Knowlton E. Barber, urologist who performed the operation, said he has treated a number of multiple kidney cases, but none of his other patients had as many as five of the organs. He said that a search of medical textbooks failed to show any previous incidence of five kidneys in one person, although there were reports of three or four—instead of the normal two.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27—Judge Charles S. Bell yesterday accepted chairmanship of the Ohio post-war program commission named to make a study of blind and deaf and dumb educational institutions in the state.

DELAY VOTE ON PALESTINE

Arab-Led Anti-Partitionists Have Slim Lead as Showdown Nears.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — Arab-led forces fighting the proposal to partition Palestine into Jewish and Arable countries held a slim lead last night in a seesaw battle in the United Nations assembly but a final vote was put off until Friday.

On the basis of present declarations, 28 nations, including the United States and Russia, have come out for partition. At least 15 nations are opposed. The partition forces thus would need two more votes under the assembly rules requiring a two-thirds majority of those present and voting for approval of a major issue.

At the end of the day's debate the delegates voted 24 to 21 against a night session. Ten more speakers are left to be heard when the debate reopens Friday at 11 a. m.

On "straw-vote" indications, in the committee, the plan would fail of approval in the assembly; it would fall one vote short of the required two-thirds majority of the delegates present and voting.

Siam voted against partition in the committee but that vote was canceled out today when the Siamese delegation advised the UN it would be "officially absent" because of the "internal situation" in Siam. Earlier, advices from Bangkok said that the new Siamese government had dismissed the Siamese delegation here.

SAYS TRUMAN'S WAY LEADS TO NEW WAR

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) asserted yesterday that if the United States continues to follow the administration's foreign policy "we will head straight into World War III."

The Republican said his party's program should be directly opposite the administration's and should be put into operation.

Brehm said in a statement "we followed or were pushed along with the New Deal foreign policy and it pushed us straight into World War II."

"In my opinion," he added, "there is no such thing as a 'bipartisan foreign policy.' Either the Republican party has a program, both foreign and domestic, or else it does not have a program.

"If we have one it should be diametrically opposed to the New Deal policy and we should put into operation. If we do not have one then why call ourselves Republicans. We might as well go along and be New Dealers."

PENSIONS TO PUSH SOVIET COAL OUTPUT

By International News Service

MOSCOW—A new page in the history of Russian coal-mining industry has been started by the recent government decree providing various concessions to coal miners who have done good work in the past years both in the East and in the rehabilitated South of the country.

Underground workers (miners), also mining engineers, foremen, and the like are going to receive privileged pensions for old age and temporary invalidism. If a miner has worked in the given mine for not less than one year without interruption he is going to be paid 100 per cent of his earnings in case he becomes temporarily disabled, and 60 per cent if he has worked for less than one year.

But if the miner became temporarily disabled in connection with his occupation he will be paid 100 per cent of his wages, independent of how long he has stayed at the mine.

Each miner who has reached the age of 50 and has worked for not less than 20 years in the coal industry or construction of mines will get an old age pension consisting of 50 per cent of his wage received at the time the pension is being granted. If the miner still wants to go on working at the mine he can do so.

His pension will be paid to him independent from his wages.

Various workers of the mining and coal-mine construction industry will get a yearly bonus in the following cases:

Underground workers and foremen also engineers and their technical assistants, directly connected with mining or construction of shafts will be getting ten to 30 per cent of their wages in the form of a yearly bonus, depending on the number of years they had worked in mining industry.

All these new measures will serve as considerable encouragement towards the fulfillment of the goal for 1950—the production of 250 million tons of coal.

GRANDMA CUTS UP

By The United Press

ROCHESTER, Vt. — Mrs. Bertha Huntington, a 77-year-old great-great-grandmother, is still an active barber here after 61 years of hair cutting. She has been the village barber for more than two generations, conducting her shop in what would otherwise be the dining room of a daughter's home.

Galion Kiwanis Hears Speaker on Wild Life

Special to The Star

GALION—That two billion dollars was spent annually in the United States before the last war on wild life and inter-related activities—guns, ammunition, sports goods, and equipment, besides various propagation projects—was pointed out by Hayden Olds of Columbus, assistant chief of the game management division of the state of Ohio, speaker for the Galion Kiwanis club at Hotel Talbott. He estimated that since the war the entire project in the United States will amount to three billion dollars. Subject of his talk was "Value of Wild Life and What is Being Done to Propagate It."

He told of the division's work in making a survey of new projects in the state, such as the Delaware dam, and how it will effect wild game and sport activities in the area in regard to dollars and cents to be spent.

"It is the hope of the division to have a head-water lake in each county of the state," Olds emphasized in telling of the state's plan to see that each acre of land has a fair share of game and activities.

Regarding game areas of the state, he suggested that the Woodbury refuge of 900 acres near Coshocton, and the Castalia and Willard marshes, are the best to see.

Ceylon is about the size of West Virginia but has nearly as many people as Texas.

Crawford Co. Drive For Local Option Planned

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — A movement underway in Ohio to make possible county option on liquor sales reached into Crawford county this week when a representative of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league was in the city to name a local committee to promote the movement.

Named to the committee were Rev. J. P. Cordero, Mrs. J. W. Schiefer, WCTU county president; Rev. A. E. McVey, Galion; Mrs. W. E. Taylor, Galion, and Rev. B. S. Brown, New Washington.

CHICAGO WORKING TO "CURE" TRAFFIC

By The United Press

CHICAGO—How to make a "sick traffic system" well and save nearly 200 lives a year is under consideration by Chicago officials.

Recommendations to bring Chicago traffic standards up to those of some other major cities are contained in a survey by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Included in the program are a "fixproof" system of traffic tickets, installation of more "drunk-o-meter" equipment to detect intoxication, and substitution of three-wheeled motorcycles for horses in the mounted division.

The survey recommends doubling traffic division personnel and calls purchase of $500,000 worth of equipment "absolutely necessary."

Traffic experts who prepared the survey cite the necessity for banning graft in traffic law enforcement and for complete training of traffic judges.

Similar successful modernization programs in Detroit, Milwaukee, Washington and other cities are pointed out as an indication of what the program could accomplish.

Also recommended is the establishment of a permanent training school at which new traffic policemen can be instructed and refresher courses given.

The report urges enactment of a pedestrian control law "with teeth," under which jaywalkers and persons who walk against red lights would be subject to stiff penalties.

If the associaton's recommendations are adopted, drivers who fail to give pedestrians the right of way also will be prosecuted.

Mayor Martin Kennelly says he hopes "some such program" can be put into effect by 1949.

Gilead, Lima, Danville and Galion. Presentation of lapel buttons to the Galion charter members made by Guy Brentlinger of Lima past international director. Thanksgiving

EVERYBODY with enough grace to be thankful needs to clear away his personal uncertainties today to make room for the certainties that inspire national gratitude on Thanksgiving 1947.

That's what the Pilgrims had to do. They were surrounded by more uncertainties than any Americans ever have faced since then. But they knew they had raised enough food to feed them until the next harvest; that was a certainty. They knew they had been favored by their creator in a raw environment that had given them urgent reason to seek his blessing. It may be doubted that any of them thought of himself as helping to found a new society, because they were here in the spirit of adventure, not as pioneers. But they knew they had successfully put behind them a way of life in the old world that had become unbearable for men of spirit in the 17th century. They had done something about tyranny and oppression. They were revolutionists.

As good a place as any to start being thankful for certainties on Thanksgiving 1947 is the continuation of a revolutionary spirit in the society founded on this continent by men and women who had refused to yield any longer to tyrants and oppressors. The United States is still unalterably opposed to tyrants and oppressors, and its opposition has been the means of destroying many of them since the latter half of the 18th century.

Millions have come here to share the crusade for human freedom that Americans are leading. Only a handful of dissenters preferring the old world ways have gone away. It should be appreciated by Americans today that they are privileged to live in the one place on earth whose people do not have to be restrained from running away from it; the tide is in the opposite direction, a circumstance deeply embarrassing to those who have no benefits to boast about in their plans of existence, only hardships.

THEN because Thanksgiving is a day for feasting, Americans need to appreciate that over-eating is a peculiarly American malady. There is enough food here to feed all of us and to send vast quantities abroad for the relief of people unable to feed themselves for one reason and another. Food is taken for granted in the United States in 1947, despite unfavorable weather last summer. There should be appreciation of that. It never happened before. This is the first society that has been able to rise above the fear of starvation.

Abundance of food is matched by abundance of other commodities. The reason is concealed at times in the welter of words spewed out for the most part by persons with nothing to contribute to their fellow men but bitterness. But it is one of the most important of the certainties that should be appreciated this year. More human beings in this country than anywhere else at any other time have been privileged to work at their highest skills in places of their own choice—a system usually described as free enterprise. Much has been said for it and against it. Only one thing needs to be said about it: it works.

The abundance it has made available has been shared widely. This, too, is a radical departure. No other society ever had so much abundance to share, or a fraction of the American desire to share it. There is a special reason for this. It has lasted from the time the Pilgrims knelt on the seacoast and thanked God for deliverance from the perilous sea. It really began with Columbus. It is the spirit and the practice of Christianity. It crops out in all the documents, laws, customs and practices of the nation. The United States has embodied the ethics of religion in the structure of society. Christianity, the precept of the country's founders, has endured. That is a fact about the United States to be appreciated on Thanksgiving.

There are other facts, a great many, to be chosen by individuals according to their notions of what is finest and most valuable about the United States—mince pie, the national sense of humor, a favorite scene, a strain of music, or perhaps dreams of things that lie within reach and await only the will of a free people living in a nation that has made almost everything seem possible.

Perhaps it is enough to be thankful for turkey with cranberry juice, with giblet gravy on mashed potatoes, the familiar symbols of all the things that make Thanksgiving the most significant of America's national holidays. The important thing is not to let the uncertainties of the moment conceal the reasons for being thankful on Thanksgiving day 1947.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Control Through Secrecy and Falsification.

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT said this: "I have never been quite sure that in the atomic age it is quite necessary to have what is known as basic training, but I am quite sure it would be good for us to spend a year learning discipline, checking on ourselves physically and mentally, and learning such things as are needed by a citizen of the United States no matter what our service may have to be."

This is a dangerous concept, for what Mrs. Roosevelt advocates is the subjection of the individual to the discipline of the state, not only physical but mental disciplines. That was, of course, Hitler's concept of the relationship of the individual and the state, and it has always been the basis for the nurture and education of children in Soviet Russia. Lunacharsky created the Soviet educational system with such complete state control that no light ever entered that country from any other place. We, in this country, are beginning to suffer from this assumption on the part of the government that it has the right to discipline its people mentally by the suppression of knowledge and the falsification of information.

SOKOLSKY

Protect Received

I recently had a letter from a chief of information—public relations division of one of our government departments in which he protested this statement of mine: ". . . A newspaper man must assume that all government information officers are, by the nature of their calling, professional liars often enough to justify the assumption that what they tell must be carefully scrutinized. Our own government has been notorious for its false press information for fifteen years . . ."

His point is that all government information officers are not liars as all columnists are not liars. He takes my paragraph quite personally. He says:

". . . It seems farfetched to tear down the public's confidence in government by a general statement concerning the type of information released by government information officers to draw a similarity to the treatment accorded members of the American press 'behind or adjacent to the iron curtain.'"

But even as he writes a controversy rages between the government and the American newspaper editors over the snide attempt of the administration, by executive order, to suppress the truth by blanketing with secrecy that which in a free country cannot be secret if the people are to have any control of their government. In his investigation of Bennett Meyers, Senator Ferguson did not have the co-operation of the war department. As the record shows, that department suppressed facts, "lost" essential papers which somehow were "found" when it was obviously dangerous not to produce them.

Even the President

It was the President of the United States who, after Yalta, issued a statement that contained no real information, even as we now know it, and then he said that nothing else was done there except of a military nature. That was untrue unless, by military agreements, Poland, China, the Balkans, Germany, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and much else were robbed of their freedom. In a simple word, the American people were deceived by their own government.

But worse still, our troops had practically taken Berlin. They were called back and made to wait until the Russians could come up with their antiquated and slow-moving equipment. The war was really over at that point, but we let it go until our "ally" could arrive. Meanwhile Germans were killing Americans. And even when the end came and a competent newspaperman, Ed Kennedy, released the truth, the Army kicked up a terrific row and deliberately falsified the facts. The proof of the falsification lies in the fact that Kennedy has been cleared—but who gave the order for falsification? Has congress ever investigated that?

In the Textbooks

This effort to discipline the mentality of the American people also appears in many textbooks issued to our children in tax-paid schools in which half-truths and doctrinaire positions are taught them in the hope that they will adopt "satisfactory" political attitudes as they grow up. And I suppose, vote the right way. And whenever anyone tries to investigate this debasement of education, he is accused of interfering with academic freedom—that accusation itself being a lie.

Just a Minute

Take Inventory Of Your Blessings

This is Thanksgiving, the day we annually celebrate with gratitude and giblet gravy.

The nation has a lot to be thankful for this year, even if congress is in session.

The cost of living is at an all-time high, but who can say it isn't worth it?

We're having to send boatloads of food to starving Europe, but at least we've got it to send.

The United Nations hasn't solved many of the world's problems yet, but thus far it hasn't quit trying.

And while the oceans may be shrinking fast, the last time anyone looked they were still there . . . both wide and wet.

Yes sir, everyone has something to be thankful for except the nation's turkeys. And they never had any reason to hope that poultry-less Thursday would last forever.

France Must Help Itself

By Raymond Moley

THE most unfortunate result of President Truman's injection of price and wage control into his message is the fact that it delays a real consideration by congress of vital issues of how the Marshall plan will be administered in Europe. Valuable time will be lost in useless debate, and sharp suspicions will be raised about the President's sincerity in calling for a non-partisan approach to the big question of European aid. For he knows, and everybody else knows that even his own party in congress would hesitate to restore OPA. The issue was apparently injected into the program just to have it knocked out by the Republicans.

MOLEY

Meanwhile, France goes through the labors of changing governments. And those political leaders over there who want to prepare for real American aid are fighting desperately against inflationary forces. For without stabilization of the currency of France, carried out by a strong government, American aid will fall into a bottomless swamp of inflation.

The selection of Robert Schuman instead of Leon Blum as premier was a faltering step toward stability. For not only had Blum alienated conservative support by his attack on the de Gaullists, but the Blum personality and record offered dismal hope for sound finance.

New Deal Imitation

Blum had the advantage of proved success in dealing with Americans, especially with New Deal officials. He is a quiet cultured man who has a constitutional aversion for resolute action. Pertinax, in his "The Gravediggers of France," absolved Blum of the guilt which he ascribed to Daladier, Gamelin and others. But he points up the tragedy of Blum's prewar government. It was, he makes clear, a dreary and messy imitation of the American New Deal. Blum lacked the resolution to lay a foundation of sound finance. Blum himself is quoted by Pertinax as saying, "My real vocation was to write books." And so Blum's failure to form a government is somewhat encouraging.

Schuman, as minister of finance under Ramadier, resisted the efforts of inflationists to vote a cost-of living bonus. He is a man of courage and may hold the line a while.

But congress must provide an administrative setup for the billions that go to France which will require the French to stabilize their currency by internal action. In the original Paris plan there was a mysterious $3,000,000,000 for stabilization. There were also reserves in the international monetary fund—a hypothetical sum of $6,000,000,000 for the same purpose. The objections to the use of American money or gold for such a purpose were heeded by the Harriman committee, which stated flatly that Europe must look after stabilization in and for itself.

Disappearing Dollars

If the French are given dollars to stabilize their domestic prices, those dollars would be sold to the people in the form of government grants. They would disappear forever. If the French government should use gold or dollars to buy commodities to stabilize the currency, the gold or dollars would immediately come back to us. The French could stabilize their currency through a really strong government such as that of Poincare in the 30's. The method would be somewhat like that adopted in Germany in 1923, after the great inflation. The basic idea then was a new mark based on the actual market quotation of the dollar—not the official rate, which is always fictitious in a black market country.

No Marshall plan can work without strong and determined help from the French government. The assurance of proper administration of European aid not a fight over OPA, should be the business of the President and the Congress.

Man's Castle Stands Even If He Divorces

LAUSANNE, Switzerland.— A man cannot be forced out of his dwelling just because he losses his wife, the supreme court has held.

The ruling was in the case of a man who married in 1944 and was given a permit to rent an apartment in Lausanne. He and his wife divorced. Then came a housing shortage. The housing authority of Lausanne tried to oust the divorce man on the grounds that an unmarried man should not occupy an entire apartment.

The tenant appealed to the supreme court, which upheld him.

Unholy Deadlock

By Joseph Alsop

BERLIN

IN LONDON, where the foreign ministers are gathering, total deadlock has already been reached in the meetings of their deputies. The relentless pettifogging of the Soviet delegation has, however, served to confirm British and American suspicions on one major point. Both delegations now expect Molotov to make a grand theatrical gesture of support for a strong, unified German reich—possibly in the form of a proposal to end the occupation of Germany.

In making his gesture, Molotov will know in advance that its rejection is certain. He will also know that he is doing incalculable damage to the Communist party in such key neighboring countries as France and Czechoslovakia. Why then should Molotov embarrass Comrades Thorez and Gottwald for the sake of display of empty histrionics which will only impress the Germans?

ALSOP

The reason is very simple. In the contest for Germany which the Soviet Union launched at the close of the war, the Kremlin is forced to employ tactics of this sort. Conditions in the Soviet zone do not permit any other kind of appeal to the Germans. There is proof enough of this assertion in one extraordinary fact. Marshal Sokolovsky Soviet commander in Germany, has now set the Germans to watching the Russians.

The order was issued some time ago by Soviet headquarters at Karlshorst to the high command of the Soviets political stooge party, the Socialist Unity party.

"Astonishing" Order

The Socialist Unity party was commanded to instruct its lower echelons to report to Karlshorst all cases of inefficiency and corruption among Soviet military government officials and Russian factory managers. Assurances were given that these reports would be held confidential. It was grimly added that if investigation proved the accuracy of the charges, the offending Russians would be removed and appropriately disciplined.

This astonishing order is the final admission, in turn, of a strange condition. This condition has for some time been discerned by official American investigators peering through the cracks in the iron curtain cutting off the Soviet zone. It has an odd historical parallel.

The history-minded may recall that after the defeat of Athens in the Pelopennesian wars, the heavy-handed Spartans for a time dominated the Aegean Sea. But the Spartan administrators and soldiers sent out to command the new territories and strong points won by Sparta suffered from a fatal weakness. The bleak, regimented life of Sparta, with its endless round of military exercises, political indoctrination and sparse living left the Spartans utterly unprotected against the temptations of a richer environment. They took bribes, acquired slaves, enjoyed luxury, and generally yielded to temptation with singular abandon. The rapid corruption of Spartans exposed to the non-Spartan world was a primary cause of the rapid collapse of the embryo Spartan empire.

Same With Russians

Even in devastated Germany, Soviet administrators and soldiers appear to suffer from the same weakness as the Spartans. Furthermore, the corruption and inefficiency of the Russian soldiers, and administrators on occupation duty are only the culminating difficulties of a problem which Marshal Sokolvsky would find it hard to solve with the most brilliant and honest officials in the world.

Part of this problem derives from the unappeasable hunger of the Soviet Union in particular, and the Soviet sphere in general, for manufactured goods of all kinds. This has caused eastern Germany to be classed with Czechoslovakia as a heavy contributor of industrial products to the general pool. Hence arises the constant pressure for more and more German goods for Russia. At the same time, eastern Germany is deficient in coal, and acutely deficient in iron and steel—the bases of any industrial economy. It is short sighted and distorting, therefore, merely to concentrate on the undoubted fact that eastern Germany is a good food producing area. Food is vital, but it cannot balance off the factors cited above.

Other "Signs"

There is other evidence to sustain this conclusion. The flight to our zone of the famous Dr. Rudolph Paul, one of the Soviets' highest hand-picked German officials, was not genuinely symptomatic, since he was frightened by a drunken Russian officer's threat of ultimate liquidation. But the desertion of the Socialist Unity party by such figures as Dr. Lowenthal, Heinrich Schmidt, and Frau Halle Schaar—the two former originally Communists—indicates the extent of rising disaffection. On a different level, the same signs are to be seen in the issuance of "control cards" to Socialist Unity party members, which they must present and have marked to prove their attendance at "spontaneous" party demonstrations and rallies.

In the Soviet zone, everything has been done to win the support of the people for the Soviets and their stooges. All that has been done has failed. The Germans as a whole, including the Soviet-zone Germans, still look to the West. Even Russians are not immune to the appeal. Attempts by Soviet officers and officials to desert to us are the common gossip of Berlin. One German who knows

VISUAL AIDS DEMONSTRATED

Teachers Study Instruction Methods in Administration Building Exhibits.

A visual aids clinic for teachers of the Marion city schools, at which demonstrations of the visual and audio devices used in the schools were given, was staged by the visual aids committee of the schools Tuesday afternoon at the school administration building.

Present for the clinic was a teacher representing each school in the city, previously chosen by the teachers of their respective school at the request of E. E. Holt, superintendent. These teachers, in turn, will give a summary of the clinic to the teachers in their schools.

Miss Clara Alice Wilson, principal of Glenwood school, served as chairman and introduced the program.

A pictorial projector was demonstrated by Miss Marilyn Beal, second grade teacher at Greenwood school. She showed a film on Indian life which she had formerly used in presenting an Indian unit in her regular classroom work. She also displayed a set of lithograph pictures on the same subject and pointed out the many advantages of motivating primary work with these types of visual material.

Sets of chart material, film slides, and three dimensional shadow boxes were presented by Cecil W. Gabler, principal of Vernon Heights Junior High school, as an illustration of the complete sets of visual materials now available.

Miss Wilson illustrated how lantern slides can be made on frosted or etched glass by the pupils, and displayed examples of slides which had been made by various pupils in the Marion schools.

Alwyn Crane gave a brief talk on the use of sound motion pictures as an aid to teaching, and announced a film entitled, "Teaching With Sound Films," will be made available for use at faculty meetings.

Mrs. Alwyn Crane demonstrated the micro-projector as an aid to the teaching of science. She projected on the screen live fleas and termites and explained how, through the use of slides or live specimens, whole classes are now able to see microscopic life through the use of a single microscope.

Audio aids, consisting of Teach-o-discs and the wire recorder, were demonstrated by Miss Zelma Howard, ninth grade English teacher at Central Junior High school. She explained that the discs are used in home economics and literature work in English. She demonstrated the wire recorder and played back a recording she had made. She explained that through this device, recordings can be made of radio programs of an educational nature and played back to the classes regardless of what time the program has been broadcast. She said it is very helpful in speech and foreign language classes.

A demonstration of the use of the bulletin board as a visual device was given by Miss Edith Brown, history teacher at Harding. She displayed a bulletin board she had previously arranged depicting the "American Scene."

Members of the visual aids committee here are Miss Beal, Miss Wilson, Mr. Crane, Miss Howard and Miss Brown.

CHOO CHOO TOPPER. Extreme styles in women's hats aroused a desire for retaliation in the heart of George Brackman of New York. Result, he built this model railroad in the crown of a silk topper. He calls it his "railroad nightmare." It has a miniature rail car, lights, signals, conductor and whistle—all built to scale. He's showing it at the Hobby Show in New York City.

LUCY WEBB HAYES CIRCLE

When the Lucy Webb Hayes circle of Epworth circle of Epworth Methodist church met last week, Mrs. Ada Morgan was hostess in her home at 248 West Pleasant street. During business, an offering was taken to purchase a Christmas gift for a girl at the Ethel Harpst home, a home missions institution of the denomination. Devotions were led by Mrs. Doris Murphy, and lesson study was presented by Mrs. Clara Messenger. Others participating in the program were Mrs. Mae Shipley, Mrs. Mary Fisher, Mrs. Maude Robinson, and Mrs. Virna Laucher. Mrs. Eldon Dew was a guest. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Louise Fogle. A Chistmas party will be held Dec. 11 at the home of Miss Audrey Bolander on South Prospect street.

FRESHMEN ON DECLINE IN U.S.

Enrollment of First Year Students Shows Drop Although Enrollment at Peak.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—This is the year of the sophomore's revenge, Dr. John Dale Russell, director of the federal security agency's division of higher education, said yesterday.

Throughout the United States, Dr. Russell told a news conference, colleges and universities have reported a decline in Freshman enrollment. The national total of first-year students, 592,346, is 14.87 per cent less than last year, although college enrollment has soared to the all-time high of 2,338,226, a 12.52 per cent gain over last year.

"The result is that at many schools sophomores outnumber freshmen and, for the first time are winning class scraps and rivalries that depend upon numbers," Russell said.

Russell also reported that:

1. New York university is the nation's largest — 46,000 — and there are eight other schools with 20,000 or more students. They are:

University of California, 43,000; Columbia, 31,500; Minnesota, 28,000; Illinois, 26,000; Ohio State, 25,000; Northwestern 24,000; Wisconsin, 23,000; Michigan, 20,000.

2. Of 1,753 institutions of higher education, 403, or about one-fourth, have enrollments of less than 200 each. Their total enrollment is 42,000.

3. Percentage increases of enrollments are greatest in Negro institutions—a 26.05 per cent increase over last year. Their total enrollment, however, is only 74,173, less than 5 per cent of the nation's total. Aside from Negro schools, enrollments at universities, colleges and professional schools increased 11.98 per cent; at teachers colleges, 8.00 per cent, and at junior colleges, 16.50 per cent.

4. Enrollment of women students increased 2.8 per cent, compared with a 17 per cent increase for men. "Many schools impose quotas upon women, and hold that a student body more than 40 per cent female would weaken their prestige," Russell explained.

5. The peak in veteran enrollments apparently has been reached, increasing 3.0 per cent while non-veteran students increased 21 per cent.

State Fair Board To View Proposed Sites

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27—The state fair relocation commission will meet Saturday to review properties already inspected and proposed as suitable sites for the new fair grounds, Secretary Frank Farnsworth announced yesterday.

The commission also will make a further survey of properties not yet viewed.

"In addition," said Farnsworth, who also is state agriculture director, "consideration will be given to the availability of property north of the existing fair grounds to determine whether a sufficient area could be added to meet the requirements of the state fair.

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27—Spalding Peck, president of the Sycamore Gas and Oil Co. of Logan county, asked the state utilities commission yesterday for authority to purchase four producing gas wells in Logan county.

The company submitted a figure of $807.44 as the cost of the wells.

TURNKEY PREVENTS PRISONERS' ESCAPE

By The Associated Press

NEWPORT, Ky., Nov. 27 — A shouting, determined turnkey at city jail yesterday prevented the escape of two prisoners armed with an automatic pistol and a revolver, according to Police Sgt. William Malden.

Turnkey Paul Krebs said James Black, an alleged association of Robert Trauth, the desperado now serving a life term for armed robbery, and Donald Ashcraft, the other prisoner, accosted him with their weapons as he opened the door of the bullpen to permit removal of a garbage can.

"You know what this is," Krebs quoted Ashcraft as saying as they pointed their guns at him.

Krebs said he slammed the door shut in their faces, raised his hands and backed away, shouting "I'm surrounded."

Sgt. Malden, Detectives LeRoy Fredericks and Fred Schlisser, and State Probation Officer Fred Workman, armed with shotguns and rifles, raced to Krebs' assistance.

Fredericks, according to the other officers, struck Black on the jaw, forcing him to drop his gun, while Malden disarmed Ashcraft with a blow on the wrist.

After being taken to their cells, Black handed the officers a knife.

Bricker, Ohio Republicans, voted in the affirmative yesterday as the senate turned down an amendment proposed by Senator Malone (R-Nev) and seven colleagues to trim the authorization for emergency relief to France Italy and Austria from $597,000,000 to $400,000,000.

Two Slayers Refused Clemency by Herbert

The men are Robert Britton, 23, and James Griffith, 27, both of Cleveland, convicted of the hold-up slaying of Harry L. Webb, June 1946, after a dice game.

Signs of Greater Unity Seen In U. S. Delegation at London

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 27—The American delegation to the London foreign ministers' conference appears to be more unified than in any previous session of the Big Four.

Veteran diplomatic correspondents said yesterday the team gave the impression of being far more cohesive in thought and action than that which gathered in Moscow last spring. It appears well coached and heading for agreed goals.

Often in the past the U. S. delegates to big international meetings have been plagued by policy splits, sometimes within the delegation itself and sometimes between the delegation and Washington officials. A major rift of this nature was the Byrnes-Wallace wrangle during the Paris conference over the attitude toward Russia.

Almost every delegation in the first year after the war had its factions divided between being "tough" with Russia and "easy" with Russia.

Previous Splits

Later, and particularly at Moscow, the Americans divided over the question of whether American policy should be built around Germany or France. Specifically the split was over whether the German economy should be rebuilt to relieve the burden on the American taxpayer — at the risk of offending French opinion and giving the Communists an advantage there — or whether the U. S. should cater to France at further expense in Germany.

There was a split, too, at Moscow over whether it was wise to internationalize the Ruhr.

Among the chief exponents of these schools of thought were Counselor Charles Bohlen and Republican Adviser John Foster Dulles on the French side and Gen. Lucious D. Clay on the German side.

Marshall Gets Results

This time Secretary of State Marshall apparently has been able largely to reconcile these differences within the framework of the Marshall plan.

Two other factors in healing American differences have been the continued obstinacy of the Russians, which has tended to push the American factors together, and the course of international events.

Secretary Marshall's plan and his Chicago speech assuring Germany's rebuilding with the rest of Europe won over the German school of thought without offending those in the French school, delegation sources say.

It was learned General Clay now feels that some sort of international control of the Ruhr can be set up without interferring either with German recovery or sovereignty. This control would take the form of allocating production under the framework of the Marshall plan and still have actual running of the Ruhr in German hands.

nication with various points in the midwest and plains states since the murder. Several cases of mistaken identity have occurred including one "dead ringer" for the wanted slayer which only fingerprints kept local officers from believing they had their man.

Two leads investigated this week included one from a railroad section gang in Kansas and another from the northern Michigan area. No report on the work of the FBI which entered the hunt Sept. 16 after it had been established that Young had fled the state, has been received here as yet.

Sheriff Reiterer reaffirmed his determination to keep the hunt for Young "alive." The slaying of Mrs. Gerbes and the murder of Roxie Ann Green, both occurring within a few months of each other, prompted commentator Walter Winchell to tab Marion a "little Chicago," a remark that spurs the local office in the hunt for Young.

NONE INJURED HERE IN THREE MISHAPS

Collisions Wednesday Afternoon and Night Reported.

No injuries were reported in three traffic accidents occurring Wednesday according to the police report. The first which occurred at 2:15 p. m. on West Center street near the Main street intersection involved cars driven by Earl R. Pletcher, 20, of 474 Van Buren street and Junior B. Pettit, 27, of near New Bloomington. The Pettit car in going around a double parked car collided with the Pletcher car. Both were eastbound. Damage was confined to fenders of both cars.

At 5:22 p. m. cars driven by Harold E. Smith, 36, of 781 Oak Grove avenue and John Powell, 63, of 701 Herman street collided in the intersection of Davids and Herman streets. The Smith car was traveling north on Davids street and the Herman car entering the intersection from Herman street. The left side of the Smith car including both fenders and front tire were damaged as was the front end of the Herman car.

At 7:10 p. m. a car driven by Jack E. Durham, 23, of near Caledonia and a car owned by Tipper Childers of 598 Herman street scraped fenders in the vicinity of 324 West Columbia street. Durham says his car which was facing west was stopped when struck by the second car traveling east and driving left of the center line in the street.

Baby in Family of Nine Dies in Cold Tent Home

By The United Press

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 27—Pneumonia yesterday claimed the life of four-months-old Denny Baker, one of nine brothers and sisters found huddled under blankets in a snow-swept tent home.

They were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker, who said they turned to the tent in desperation after heir home burned down last spring.

Baker said he was unemployed.

Police found the children yesterday bundled under blankets. Drifting snow from a slit in the tent covered their beds.

Little Denny was taken to a hospital but died early yesterday. The other children, the eldest 13, were placed in juvenile and boarding homes.

The parents continued to live in the tent.

ROYAL COUPLE GO TO VISIT SCOTLAND

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Nov. 27 — Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip slipped quietly into London by automobile yesterday from the south English town of Romsey and a few hours later started by train for Scotland to continue their honeymoon.

Few Londoners observed the arrival or departure of the royal couple whose wedding procession last Thursday was witnessed by more than 1,000,000 persons.

Elizabeth and Philip will stay at Birkhall, a secluded house near Balmoral, site of a royal castle where the princess spent many holidays during her childhood.

Before leaving Buckingham palace, the couple issued this statement:

"Before we leave for Scotland tonight, we want to say that the reception given us on our wedding day, and the loving interest shown by our fellow countrymen and well wishers in all parts of the world, have left an impression which will never grow faint.

"We can find no words to express what we feel, but we can at least offer our grateful thanks to the millions who have given us this unforgettable send-off in our married life."

The couple originally planned to spend a fortnight of their one-month honeymoon at Broadlands, Earl Mountbatten's country estate at Romsey, but changed their plans and terminated their stay after six days.

STORES

the answer to every woman's picture of adornment.

Like snow and Christmas, bread and butter, Romeo and Juliet, shirts and ties go together and local haberdasheries offer a smart line in these and other gifts for men and boys. Tie patterns are gay and bright with paisleys, polka dot and stripe styles, in silks and knitted, plain and figured. Sport shirts are styled in gay colors and the hard-to-find white shirts are seen on the shelves in greater numbers than in years previous.

For boys there are mackinaws, navy pea coat, gabardine jackets and coats, sweaters in colors, and Boy Scout equipment. Scout equipment aside from wearing apparel, may be purchased without a card from the leaders. These include tents, lanterns, knives and other equipment.

Jewelry stores are a-glitter with diamonds, silver and other items in the gift line and there are many new and attractive articles. For the first time since before the war sterling can be purchased, and among the new items are carving sets and sets of knives in wood containers, stainless steel and hollow ground. Some handles are made in one piece out of rosewood root, which absorbs practically no moisture or grease.

If It's Jewelry!

Watches are something to see, many in plain yet beautiful styling. Pins are set with diamonds and many colored stones, cuff bracelets and dangle bracelets with earrings to match are among the gifts not to be overlooked. Gold mesh bags are again to be had in lovely shapes and sizes. For the men there is a larger selection of razors and for the one who uses a safety razor there is a decidedly new one that is cordless and works from a mechanical winding.

There is more demand for men's jewelry and many of the stones are strikingly beautiful. Chime clocks are again to be had and there ar emany smaller clocks to be tucked away in traveling cases and for dressing tables.

Scarves in gay colors, gloves in bright arrays, perfumes, umbrellas and cosmetics are to be had in quantities and are most acceptable as gifts. Boxing mitts and folding nylon umbrellas are among the new items in the gift list.

The furniture marts offer varied selections and for those interested in luggage there are Gladstones and two-suiters for men and in the women's department there are matched sets, overnight cases, hangar cases and the small utility case in plain and stripes.

ADDITIONAL AID TO GREECE CONSIDERED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—Undersecretary Robert A. Lovett said yesterday the state department is considering a possible request to congress for funds to aid Greece's recovery in addition to the $300,000,000 voted last May.

Lovett told a news conference the American aid mission to Greece has reported "several factors" arising which were not expected when the Greek aid program was submitted last spring.

He said these factors may affect ultimate success of the plan:

1. The enforced evacuation of some 310,000 refugees from the frontier guerrilla fighting, expected to increase to 500,000 by Jan. 1.

2. Loss of about one-third of the Greek wheat crop from a recent drouth.

3. Allocation of $9,000,000 of funds earmarked for economic purposes to equip the Greek army to fight the guerrillas.

4. Increase in world prices which has reduced the buying power of Greek aid funds.

5. An estimate that emergency relief funds available for Greece, in addition to the $300,000,000 recovery program, will be $10,000,000 less than originally expected.

U. S. Surplus War Goods Goes to Arab Nations

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27—Louis Bromfield, cochairman of the American League for a Free Palestine, said yesterday that Arab League countries "now promising a blood bath in Palestine" have received $37,311,490 worth of U.S. surplus war equipment since V-E day.

Questioned by reporters at a news conference, Bromfield said that a "considerable percentage" of this material consisted of transport equipment, such as jeeps and bulldozers, which could be used for civilian purposes.

Bromfield asserted that the government has agreed to sell $42,275,041 worth of war surplus property to the Arab league countries.

HIGHWAY WORKERS SET FOR WINTER JOB

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27 — The state highway department, armed with more and better equipment than has been available since the start of the war, today was prepared for the annual fight against snow and ice on the state's highways.

Highway Director Murray Shaffer said the department had ordered a large amount of new equipment, including motorized units built only for cleaning the snow and ice from highways. How much of this equipment had been delivered will be determined when reports are received from maintenance engineers in each of the 12 state highway divisions, Shaffer said.

The new equipment ordered 29 trucks of from three to four tons; 180 ton and a half to two ton trucks; 14 all wheel drive heavy trucks, three of which have heavy rotary snow plows built into them and 11 to which large "V" type plows are attached; two five to seven-ton trucks; 18 one-way high speed snow plows; 60 sand spreaders; and eight shovels and cranes of various types.

Harry Metcalf, chief of the department's motor transport division, said the heavier equipment generally was concentrated in the Lima, Bowling Green, Ravenna, Toledo, Ashland and Cleveland areas, since these sections usually have heaviest snow fall. The equipment can, however, be shifted to other areas as conditions warrant, he said.

Shaffer said all equipment the department had allocated to counties was being checked to see that it is in working condition. Cinders, some of them mixed with calcium, already have been piled near hills and curves where ice and snow is worst, the highway director reported.

DIAMOND STOLEN FROM HEAD OF SIAM'S BUDDHA

By The Associated Press

BANKOK, Siam, Nov. 27—The capital of Siam, already agog over the recent coup directed by Marshal Pibul Songgram, got another shock today with the disclosure the three carat diamond which studded the forehead of the sacred emerald Buddha is missing.

The centuries-old Buddha with its jeweled garments worth $100,000 is in a guarded temple in the royal palace, where King Ananda Mahidol died last June of a mysterious gunshot wound. A military spokesman said last week the king had been assassinated, and some members of the royal household arrested for the crime.

The royal household reported on Monday the gem had been lifted from the forehead of the Buddha and the police criminal investigation department launched an immediate secret search.

We Give Thanks This Day . .

. . . yes, we all offer humble thanks for such a multitude of things, material and intrinsic . . . for plentiful food, not just at this festive board today, but the whole year through. And we give heartfelt thanks for this, our America, "and of the Pilgrims' pride" which inspired this joyful harvest-time custom. For whether we're counting our blessings under a blazing Arizona sun . . . where winds whip off a rock-bound coast of Maine . . . or high in wooded Oregon — it's all the same, our America of steadfast tolerance and good humor, of neighborliness and pleasant living, so priceless. It is rather for us to bow reverent heads and let our full hearts give voice to the gratitude forever with us but too seldom expressed.

Social Affairs

HOMECOMINGS, family dinners and gatherings mark the Thanksgiving holiday in Marion today. With the closing of schools, colleges and universities, trains and buses have been gay with homeward-bound students, many accompanied by guests, who have put aside books and studies for the holiday and long weekend. The day also will mark wedding anniversaries and a number of brides and bridegrooms have chosen the day to say "I do." Thanksgiving eve was chosen by the Nine to Twelve Dance club for one of the season's scheduled dances at the Marion Country club. The day launches the holiday season which promises to be gay with weddings, parties and other social events.

THE November dinner meeting of the Marion chapter of the National Secretaries Association was held Tuesday evening in the Marion club at Hotel Harding.

Miss Neva Swope, a member of the chapter, was the guest speaker, and her talk centered about her assignment abroad as a military personnel clerk in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers from Oct. 1946 to July 1947. During that time she lived in Bad Nauheim, Germany, and she described the living conditions of the German people, their attitudes as a conquered nation, the similarity of their way of life to American living, and the great task which lies ahead for Germany in the problem of re-educating the young people to ideas of peace rather than war. The comparison of the scarcity of food, clothing and shelter in Germany to the plenty in America was particularly appropriate as she pointed out how much is taken for granted by the American people, and how seldom we stop to give thanks.

Christmas of 1946 was the first year the German people were free to worship, and Miss Swope described the happiness revealed in thir faces as, on Christmas Day, leaving homes where there was not enough food for nourishment, nor enough clothing for warmth, they joyfully made their way to church, carrying sprays of holly.

As an interesting sidelight, she told of her trip across on a navy transport ship, and a storm at sea so severe that at one time they were given the command to prepare the lifeboats. However, although the lifeboats were not used, the ship was out of control and was allowed to drift. When the storm subsided, the boat was three days or approximately 500 miles off the course.

Miss Swope is employed as a secretary to Col. Hooper at the Marion Engineer Depot.

During the business meeting plans were made to give clothing to needy young women of Marion, and Miss Corinne Lacey was appointed chairman of the committee. It was decided to hold the December meeting at Rohrbaugh's Barn near Delaware.

MEMBERS of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers club were joined by guests for their November meeting Wednesday at Hotel Harding. Fruit, white tapers and candy cups decorated with miniature turkeys carried out a Thanksgiving theme for the table decorations. Following the luncheon Mrs. Jules Kepling, city hostess, presented Mrs. Louie Cummins, Mrs. A. C. Theobald, Mrs. H. J. Felber, Mrs. R. C. Douthbett, Mrs. David Robbins, Mrs. Leonard MacNall and Mrs. G. E. Dykins. A movie on "Water" was shown and later a "hat" party was held. Awards for the cleverest hats were won by Mrs. Douthbett, Mrs. MacNall and Mrs. Carl Barchfeld.

Mrs. William K. Drake was hostess for a social meeting of the Tuesday Study club Tuesday evening at Ringer's Inn. Following a short business session tables were filled for cards. A contribution was made to the Pan-American Fellowship and it was voted to send gifts to the Scioto Village near Delaware. The gifts are to be taken to the next meeting in two weeks when Mrs. Glen Elsasser will entertain the club at the Federation Home. Mrs. Edward T. Huber, president, was in charge of the meeting and with Miss Alice Caulfield, reported on the federation board meeting. In cards an award for high score went to Mrs. H. H. Cooper and Mrs. Carl Werley received the floating prize.

Mrs. Jerry Huntsman and Mrs. Darlene Hobson entertained with a shower Saturday evening complimenting Mrs. Clayton Porter. Blue and pink, the colors Mrs. Porter chose for her wedding, were used to carry out a decorative theme and decorations for a cake were bridal motifs. Refreshments were served and the evening was spent socially.

Mrs. Melvin Winters was an associate hostess when the Athenaeum club met Friday evening with Mrs. Merrill Hendel of 856 Congress street. Dinner Meeting Held at Harding By Altrusa Club

THE Marion Altrusa club met for its monthly dinner meeting Tuesday evening at Hotel Harding, with Dr. Dorothy Siegert Lyle of Ohio State university as guest speaker. She chose as her subject "Vocations Open to Women Trained in Textiles."

Covers were laid for about 50 at tables decorated in keeping with the Thanksgiving season. Centerpieces were turkeys, acorn squash, bittersweet and apple candle holders.

Mrs. Lyle, a member of the school of home economics and director of dry cleaning research in the school's clothing and textiles division, showed samples of several new fabrics which are not, as yet, on the market, being made from soybeans, corn, and chicken feathers. She also showed some of the newer fabrics including linen made from flax grown in the United States.

Mrs. Lyle also supervises all work on special research in fabrics and chemicals in a project sponsored by the Ohio Association of Cleaners and Dyers.

Three new members, Mrs. Lucille Conrad, Miss Murl Frye and Miss Lois Kraner, were initiated into the club. Miss Ruth Kramer, chairman of the membership committee, presided for the initiation, assisted by Miss Madge Cooper, Miss Ruth Kleinmaier Miss Mary Ellen Kerr, and Mrs. Jane Ross, club president.

Miss Helen Kramer, extension chairman, announced another Altrusa club was recently formed in Montreal, Canada. Plans were made for several members to attend an organization dinner of a new club at Ashland Tuesday night, Dec. 2, to be held in the Ashland Country club.

Guests were Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Frank Kochensberger, Miss Dora Jacobs, Miss Louise Augenstein, and Mrs. A. H. Ebel of Gonzales, Tex.

Musical Study Group Meeting With Mrs. Hale

WHEN members of the study group of the Marion Lecture-Recital club met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl N. Hale of 392 East Church street, the program included a composition by a Marion woman. Miss Dorothy Gail Stephenson, soprano, included in her group "True Magic," the words and music of which are the work of Mrs. Bud Lawson of 499 Elmwood drive. Heard for the first time in public the composition was highly praised by the group. The song will be published.

Mrs. J. C. Woods, Lecture-Recital club chairman of music in hospitals and war service, told of a request from the veterans' hospital at Chillicothe for recordings of "White Christmas." The record is a favorite with the disabled veterans and there is a need for a great many recordings if all the men are to enjoy hearing the song during the Christmas season.

In addition to a contribution made by the Lecture-Recital club the study club group took up a collection to be used for the purchase of records and needles. Any organization or individual wishing to contribute a recording or funds to purchase recordings and needles are asked to contact Mrs. Woods at 285 Lafayette street. The gifts are to be forwarded to the hospital by Dec. 5, Mrs. Woods announces.

Music items were given by the members in response to roll call and Mrs. Harry T. Williams, program chairman, presented the study topic, "The Organ." Mrs. Melvina Keeler, pianist, presented a group of Bach compositions including prelude No. 15 and prelude No. 22 from the "Well Tempered Clavicord" and "Bouree" from "Sonata for Violin," and "Gavotte," Gluck-Brahma from "Orpheus," and "Waltz in E Minor" by Chopin Miss Stephenson, accompanied by Miss Roseline Manzo sang, in addition to Mrs. Lawson's composition, "Nina," by Pergolesi and "A Brown Bird Singing," Hadn Woods.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hale and the co-hostess, Miss Marjorie Williams. The December meeting will be with Mrs. Gerda Dombaugh of East Church street and will be a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Penitentiary "Lawyer" Talks His Way Out

By The United Press

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. — Inmates of the Missouri Penitentiary miss their legal "counsel"—a convict who has "sprung" himself on a writ of habeas corpus.

The prisoner was Clyde Meeks, 46, self-styled prison "lawyer." Meeks was not a member of the bar, claiming only a ninth grade education. But he studied hard in his cell and became an expert at habeas corpus, successfully using that legal outlet for the release of numerous fellow prisoners.

Meeks "reviewed" countless cases and gave advice free. Meeks himself gained freedom by pleading his own case in circuit court. He was opposed by the attorney general's office but was released after serving eight years of a 15-year sentence for forgery.

Let Young Hands Help

AIDS SANTA . . . Jane Tupper makes orange pomanders.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Youngsters are wonderful "givers"—if you allow them to be. A little encouragement, enough praise, a lot of letting alone and they can be of real help in the kitchen at holiday or any other time.

They'll take great pride in being of assistance to you as well as in making gifts to send to friends if you give them a chance and are patient with their efforts.

The whole trick in encouraging children in the kitchen is to let them undertake tasks they'll enjoy and that suit their particular capabilities. Here it is not always age that counts but the degree of dexterity or manual skill of each individual child.

After young visitors to my kitchen have come around a few times I usually have a pretty good idea of what they are able to manage. But like a lot of grown-ups, I still tend to offer too much assistance.

She's Skillful

My best lesson came a while ago when a fair-haired eight-year-old named Gilly was cutting out cookies. It was the first time she had done this and in spite of her competence—she happens to be amazingly skillful at handicrafts—I kept offering her suggestions.

Finally she stopped her cooky cutting, put her index finger to her head and looked at me. "Cecily," she said, "Will you please remember I'm the brain?" That was the last reminder I needed!

Even the child under six can help. One of the kitchen tasks my own nephew has undertaken since he was preschool age is grinding dry bread for crumbs. Around holiday time he likes to grind cranberries for the raw relish we usually serve. These seem to him quite mannish tasks, and every other small boy and girl I know enjoys working the food grinder, too.

Another holiday chore liked equally well by boys and girls is "nutting." In our household this means everything from cracking walnuts to shelling peanuts to blanching almonds. Well-known for their propensity for waterplay, putting the almonds to soak in very hot water, letting them cool and then flipping off the skins is a lot of legitimate fun to most youngsters

Watch the Water

If a preschooler undertakes almond-blanching see that the almonds in the scalding water are out of reach until they have cooled and are ready to have their skins removed.

When it comes to making Christmas gifts for friends, youngsters will be right there ready and waiting if in the beginning you make the suggestions. Start with pomanders (pretty and inexpensive clove-stuck oranges to perfume drawers and linen shelves) and gather two or three children together for the initial attempt. Clove-sticking is a lot more fun when there's a chance to laugh and chat while you're doing it!

Orange Pomanders

Oranges, whole cloves, powdered orris root, ground cinnamon.

Stick whole cloves into the skin of the orange until the rind is completely covered. Mix equal parts of orris root (which may be purchased at a drug store) and cinnamon and roll orange in it. Pat in as much of the powdered mixture as will adhere to the orange. Wrap the pomander in tissue or other soft paper for 2 or 3 weeks. Take out of paper. The orange will be much lighter as the juice has seeped out and the pulp dried. Shake off any loose powder and the pomander is ready for use.

State Taking Steps To Aid Alcoholics

By The United Press

HARRISBURG, Pa.—The State of Pennsylvania, the world's largest retail liquor dispenser, soon may be able to help cure its 60,000 alcoholics.

A legislative study agency is preparing recommendations for introduction at the 1949 session of the General Assembly.

"As long as the Commonwealth stays in the liquor business and derives revenue from it," said Sen. Weldon B. Heyburn, chairman of the study group, "we must take care of the people who cannot handle liquor."

Foremost among the recommendations is expected to be establishment of new hospitals exclusively for alcoholics and drug addicts.

FIRE CHIEF ON JOB

By The United Press

CONNEAUTVILLE, Pa.— Hilda Uher saw smoke rising from her telephone switchboard. Instead of calling the fire department, she intercepted a business call. Fire Chief James C. Manross had started to make. Manross ran over and put out the blaze, caused by a short circuit, with a fire extinguisher.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

"MARY!" I expostulated. "You know we never thought of excluding Noel from the list of your grandmother's hospital visitors. But we know his hours, and he always goes to see her in the evenings. He has been wonderful about visiting her."

"Keep the little weskit on," she adjured me, "and don't burst the buttons thereof. I know all you're saying, and I also know, having a grain of the sense God is supposed to give a chipmunk, that it wouldn't be good policy to have Noel one of the family party down there today. He'd be sure to think something was up if you went in ahead to see Grannie alone, and I'd rather he isn't up on all the ramifications of this hush hush' business."

"No, he isn't," I said, and almost added: "Neither are you," then changed my sentence to a more innocuous one.

"Speaking of 'hush, hush, stuff,' I said, 'you should have heard the latest from Faith, this morning.'"

"Cock an ear for this, Mary," Katharine advised. "Faith was in rare form this morning."

Mary laughed heartily at my recital of Faith's breakfast table conversation, then sobered a bit, although her eyes still held mirth.

"She's in a class by herself, our Faith," she said. "But I want to tell you how Noel reacted to my decision — I tactfully made it a wish to him—that we attend Georges' wedding."

"Both my ears are waving," Katharine told her, "and I can see the tips of Madge's in well-bred trembling."

I doubled up my magazine and threw it at her. She tossed her head, and because Olina had said there would be only one rehearsal, you and I would be virtual hermitesses—I guess I can think up words, too, when I put my mind on it—most of the time we were out here, and I could go over my lines while you wrote more. In all the peace and quiet of a nunnery."

"What did he say to that one?" Katharine asked with a chuckle.

"He lapped it up as if he were a kitten before a saucer of warm milk," Mary said. "He agreed, that under those circumstances, we certainly must attend the wedding, and he got away without any reference to the 'undertones' that you uns and I know are underneath this thing."

"Our congratulations." Katharine said, and then the telephone interrupted us. Olina was on the other end of the wire.

"Has Noel gone to work?" she asked.

"Yes," I told her.

"Then is it all right for me to come down to see Mary now?" she asked.

NO STAMP NEEDED, SONNY

By The United Press

CHEROKEE, Ia.—Employes at the Cherokee postoffice were stumped only temporarily by a telephone call from a three-year-old boy inquiring if he needed a federal stamp to go duck hunting. The youthful caller was told that if he was big enough to carry a shotgun he could hunt without a stamp.

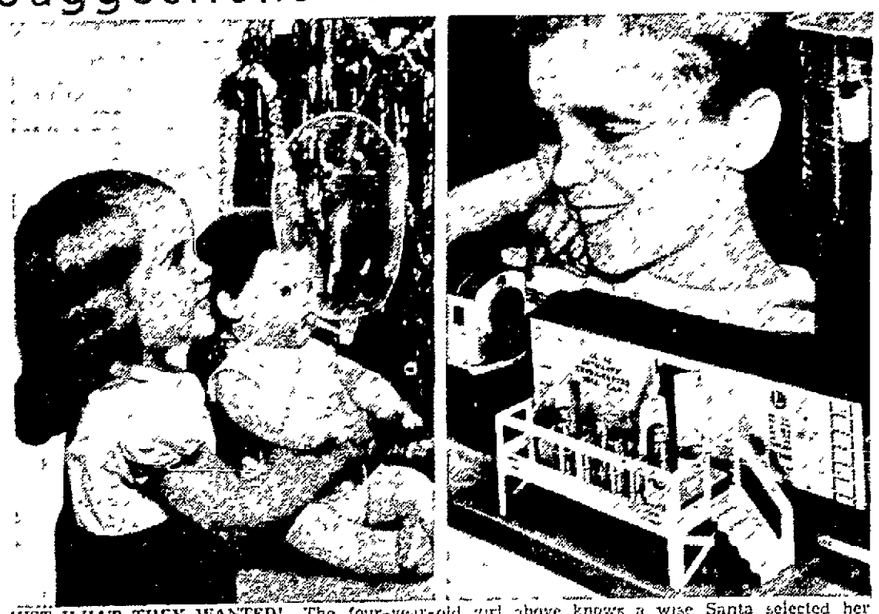
Suggestions for Assistant Santas



JUST WHAT THEY WANTED! The four-year-old girl above knows a wise Santa selected her Dydee doll which blows plastic bubbles, has a washable wig and comes with a layette including bubble bath and other baby cosmetics. The eight-year-old lad plainly is pleased with the latest addition to his smoking, whistling, remote control electric train—a milk car complete with milkman who pushes eight milk cans on to the loading platform, all at the push of a button.

By DR. GRACE LANGDON
Child Development Advisor of the American Toy Institute

This Christmas there's likely to be a shortage of many types of favorite toys. So, in order to give the country's record contingent of children maximum happiness and profit from the available supply, it should be part of every volunteer Santa Claus' Christmas cheer program to make a thoughtful choice of toys to fit the age needs of each youngster on his list.

Here are some points that will help you win high marks as a considerate Santa when you go shopping for toys

Don't buy everything you see on one counter, just because the merchandise pleases your eye and it's more convenient to spend your money in one spot.

Do remember that every child needs a well balanced supply of playthings to fit his age level just as he needs a varied supply of food for good nutrition. All children from the toddler age on up need toys that encourage active play (such as push and pull toys and wheel toys); creative play (such as construction toys and painting equipment), and dramatic play (such as housekeeping toys, train systems and dress up costumes). And from five on children also need games that encourage social play.

Don't grab the first toy you see on the counter.

Do take time to look for labels and leaflets prepared by toy manufacturers giving advice based on research on the age interest of toys

If you are shopping for a child in the age group between infancy and two years old, here are some basic enthusiasms you can count on to bring him joy: Soft stuffed animals and dolls; balls and push and pull toys, strings of beads to bite and toys to bang, bath toys of rubber, plastic picture books about animals, children and familiar objects.

The two to four age group needs push and pull toys and pedal toys. Wagons, wheelbarrows and small doll carriages are favorites. Peg boards and pounding sets, blocks of all kinds, paints and sand toys are basic favorites. Miniature housekeeping equipment, dolls and doll accessories, little autos, trucks and trains are enjoyed. Simple musical instruments like horns and drums are of great interest.

Kindergarten children in the four to six age group continue all of the play enthusiasms of the two to four brackets but their co-ordinations have developed and their interests broadened. The four to six age group begins to show interest in store play and all kinds of community activity such as fire engines, trucks and cranes, etc. Simple games are enjoyed and a variety of picture books.

From six to eight boys are enthusiastic about electric trains, construction sets and science toys, while girls concentrate on doll play, "real" housekeeping activities and hobbies such as weaving, bead work. Both boys and girls enjoy wheel toys, games and dress up costumes.

Eight to twelve is a hobby age which follows the lines of the previous two years. Both boys and girls are interested in both outdoor and indoor games of skill.

VARI-COLORED HOSPITAL WALLS AID VET PATIENTS

By The United Press

OAKLAND, Calif. — Hospital rooms with interchangeable wall coverings are giving color relief to bed-ridden patients at the veterans hospital here

Soothing combinations of soft green, blue, peach and "sunny" yellow have replaced the deadly monotony of white walls for the veterans.

The hospital staff fitted out a 22-room ward with cuntz drapes made to be easily movable from one room to another. The cornice boards were painted blending colors to harmonize with the various drape colors.

So now the veteran in his bed can see a "new" room every week instead of having the same old solid white walls to stare at.

Upholstered easy chairs were chosen for each room, giving "an air of natual comfort" instead of the cold formality usually found in hospitals. The color therapy program was financed by contributions from American Legion posts, Ladies' Auxiliary of the Jewish War Veterans.

Seems Good Idea To Put Sex Appeal In Highway Signs

By The United Press

OLYMPIA, Wash.—Sex appeal in turnpike signs is the latest proposal before the Washington highway department.

The accident prevention division is studying sample signs bearing curvesome etchings of nude young ladies, but the idea doesn't seem to stand much chance.

"Heavens to Betsy," said Maurice Van Mechelem, assistant safety officers. "All the wives would keep their husbands off the roads."

Van Mechelem, whose ire is up because people shoot holes in his standard, commonplace signs and steal reflector buttons, figured maybe the new idea was good.

"It glamorizes them . . . but college boys would probably steal them for their rooms," he said.

Then, too, the distraction for the male driver might cause more accidents than paying no attention."

Sign Eye-Filling

One eye-filling railroad crossing sign had the traditional "X" portrayed by a pretty brunette, feet apart and arms held high and widespread. The entire sign was done in "scotch night" composed of thousands of tiny glass beads to reflect headlights at night.

Another amber colored reflecting sign had "Slo" and "Curve" straddling a sideview of another long-limbed beauty.

"Amber colored signs means the curves are not too dangerous," Van Mechelem explained. "Red means really to slow down. That's standard."

Replacement problems run from bullet-riddled signs to Indians with fancy red beads. The department can't put up signs with reflector buttons in one eastern Washington area because Indians from a nearby reservation take the buttons to decorate belts and hats.

Van Mechelem said people risk their necks climbing poles, will cut down posts and blast with birdshot in apparently meaningless efforts to defeat the safety program.

"And, as taxpayers, they must pay for the new signs," Van Mechelem declared. "It's a problem."

INGENUITY SOLVES TEACHER HOUSING

By The United Press

AUDUBON, Ia.—This town of 2,409 persons solved its teacher housing problem by construction of two modern duplexes—and it didn't take a bond issue to do it.

Superintendent of Schools Allen N. Stroh said an idea, some ingenuity, and a lot of hard work turned the trick.

The duplexes cost about $15,000 and house four teachers and their families. They will have paid for themselves in 15 years at the fairyland rental of $30 per month per family.

This was the situation last summer:

Audubon had 10 men on its school faculty of 32. Nine were married and had families. Of the nine, Stroh had rented a home and two others courageously had bought homes.

That left six families, including that of Don Stark, the high school industrial arts instructor and father of a new baby, faced with the typical situation in small communities — landlords considering them a short-term proposition, no in-laws to move in with and no hotels to live in while watching the want-ads.

Stroh learned of surplus buildings for sale at Clarinda, Ia., by the War Assets Administration. The buildings were barracks, formerly occupied by Japanese and German prisoners of war. He sounded out the school board on buying them.

The board decided not only to buy them but to tear them down, haul the lumber to Audubon and build the homes from scratch.

Stark, an air force veteran, was made head of the project. Stark and Stroh bought the buildings for $327. They transported boys from the industrial arts classes by bus to Clarinda to dismantle them.

Lots were bought in the residential district and Stark engineered the filling of a hole on the site with more than 2,000 yards of dirt.

Stark shopped around Des Moines, Omaha, St. Louis and Kansas City for finishing lumber.

The project was finished in record time. The teachers did their own interior decorating. The plans for each are identical—a living-dining room combination, two bedrooms, a bath, two larger closets, and a kitchen. The back porch can double as a breakfast nook and each has a full basement.

Guadalcanal was named by a 15th century adventurer after his home town in Spain.

Genoa, Italy, was an important Greek port in the fourth century B.C.

EARTH SLOWING UP, BUT NO ONE CAN NOTICE IT

By The United Press

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The earth is slowing its rotation and the day eventually will be 48 hours long.

The process is a slow one, however, increasing the length of the day about a thousandth of a second every century, General Electric scientists have concluded. It is caused by the braking action of the waters of the earth as they flow by tidal movements over shallow areas.

The same effect causes the moon to recede from the earth and thus makes the month longer as well. The maximum effect will come millions of years hence when the day and the month will be the same, equal to about 47 of our present days. Then the earth will always keep the same face toward the moon, just as that body does now toward us.

By The United Press

Advice on Christmas Shopping By Department Store Veteran

DECEMBER
25
GIVE THOUGHT TO YOUR CHRISTMAS LIST BEFORE GOING INTO THE STORES... BUT DON'T THINK TOO LONG!
STORE OPENS 9:30
SHOP EARLY..... ...AND EARLY IN THE MORNING IF POSSIBLE.
DELIVER IT, PLEASE!
CARRY YOUR PURCHASES IF YOU POSSIBLY CAN.
DON'T WAIT TILL CHRISTMAS EVE TO CHECK UP ON YOUR TREE ORNAMENTS!

By MRS. MARGARET RITZ

Veteran Department Store Information Clerk, (at Macy's New York).

(Written for Associated Press)

Once again the time of year is approaching when we will witness that phenomena of hurly-burly known as "Christmas Shopping." Offhand we don't know of any pat solution for circumventing this annual scrimmage. A bachelor friend of ours has one formula. He waits until Christmas Eve and then sallies forth to order 20 fruit cakes,—"and that," says he, "is that." But, for the benefit of his friends, at least, here are some more practical hints on Christmas shopping.

Make a Plan

Instead of starting out willy-nilly, sit down and plan your Christmas shopping. A little headwork beforehand will save a lot of hard work afterwards.

1. First, decide whom to get gifts for. Then, think about each person and decide what sort of gift will best fit each personality. If "Jack," for example, is an ardent golfer, see if you can find some new gadget for golfers, etc. Consult Christmas catalogues and magazines; they will help to stimulate fresh ideas. Then, make a little list with your general ideas opposite each name.

2. Now take this list and put it right to work. Please don't wait until the last moment. No one should have to be reminded of what it's like when you buck that tide of last minute shoppers.

3. Do your shopping early in the morning. There's much less traffic to contend with then. For example, a customer who comes in at 10 a. m. will find less than half as many people in the store as there will be around noon.

4. If you are shopping in a large store, get a copy of the store directory. During the Christmas season many stores shift the location of certain departments. But in any event, you'll save yourself many steps if you figure out a general shopping route beforehand rather than just wandering around the store at random.

5. Remember, special orders cannot be filled in a few days. If you have monogramming, engraving, photography, or any similar operating on your list, allow plenty of time to get it done.

6. Remember to allow time to devote to the appearance of your gifts. Try to make them look as bright and shiny as Christmas itself. The outside of a Christmas package is almost as important as its contents.

7. Since breakages do sometimes occur, be your own delivery boy when you purchase fragile goods that are small enough to carry. As a matter of fact, the more packages of all kinds that you can carry at this time of year, the faster the delivery service will tend to be.

8. If you need any information on mailing, call up your post office or drop in there on your way home. They will gladly give you wrapping instructions, size and weight limits, time limits for foreign shipment or similar information.

9. Start thinking about those Christmas cards, especially if you hope to have any printing done on them. If you leave yourself enough time, you can even scribble a short personal note on some of the cards that will help to keep you in closer touch with old friends.

10. Get out your Christmas tree ornaments and other decorations and look them over. Don't leave yourself stranded on Christmas Eve with a string of lights that don't light or missing some essential such as a Christmas tree stand.

PREHISTORIC BISON FOUND

By The United Press

SAN FRANCISCO—Bones of a seven-foot long animal, believed to have been a prehistoric bison, were discovered in the Tomales Bay area north of here by a Marine Junior College geology field party. Stephen C. Bruff, leader of the party, said the bones were at least 25,000 years old, dating back to the pleistocene period.

Small amounts of fluorine in drinking water are believed to prevent tooth decay although too large amounts cause tooth damage.

SNAPPY ACTION WASTED

Coal Still Main Source of Energy Despite Atom Era, Scientist Says

By The United Press

DUNDEE, Scotland—Coal, the key to post-war recovery, is the world's most important raw material and no one knows how much there is or how long it will last, Dr. A. MacGregor, Scottish geologist, told a British Scientific Association conference here.

Dr. MacGregor, president of the zoology section of the conference, spoke on "Geology in the Development of Coalfields."

The last "census" of world coal supplies, he said, was in 1913, when the Twelfth International Geological Congress figured coal reserves would last 5,000 years at an annual consumption equal to that year's.

But Dr. MacGregor poked holes in that survey.

"I must say that those estimates, which have often been reproduced in textbooks, etc., did nothing to warm me during last winter's cold spell," he commented. "I did, however, try to find out the basis of these seemingly optimistic estimates, though with no great success.

U. S. Reserves Uncredited

"For example, in the summary tables of this work, Canada is credited with 414,804 million metric tons of 'actual reserves,' including some 675,000,000 tons of anthracite. But no reserves under this category are assigned to the United States.

"Under the heading of 'probable reserves,' United States is credited with 3,838,557 tons (including Alaska and 'coal deeply buried') and Canada with 819,465,000 tons.

"The position here is completely reversed, but still when we find out all the 'actual reserves' in North America listed under Canada we begin to wonder just how far statistics of this kind take us."

Dr. MacGregor agreed with critics who "suggested that the whole problem of world coal resources requires re-examination on a new basis."

Two Ways to Figure

There are he said, only two bases for figuring what the coal reserves are: (1) identification of rocks, since rocks laid down at certain times in geological history are likely to contain coal deposits, and (2) general known distribution of coal.

These bases, he said, would enable investigators to outline three main categories of reserves:

1.—Proved—by existing underground works and by borings.

2. Partly proved—by borings, and on the geological evidence.

3. Inferred—where there is no direct evidence of seams, but where scientific deduction says they ought to be found.

"Coal production must be maintained and increased," he said. "Even should atomic energy replace coal largely as the world's major fuel, coal remains our most valuable source of carbon. From carbon can come chemical wonders of which nylon and countless others give us today the merest hint."

LET'S FURNISH A HOUSE . . . Trend-of-the-times game . . .

GAMES FOR SMALL FRY. This Christmas the four-to-six-year-olds can share the fun of play games, along with their older brothers and sisters.

There's a new game crop planned especially for preschool youngsters who cannot read or count. "A Visit to Mother Goose" is a brand new entry in the 1947 game pack, with only one playing piece and a board peopled with favorite nursery rhyme characters. Mother or big sister reads nursery rhyme cards with instructions for play, and the first player to reach Mother Goose wins.

The housing shortage has inspired another new game that's fun for the school-age set. "Let's Furnish a House" provides every player with $5,000 play money, with which a house is purchased on mortgage. Then players bargain for furniture (including a television set). The first to furnish this house completely, pay off the mortgage and put $1,000 in the bank wins.

AIR CAMERA TAKES PORTRAIT OF ALASKA

By The United Press

SEATTLE—The world's largest multi-lensed aerial camera is back in Nome, resuming a 20-year task of taking Alaska's picture.

The photographer's subject is docile enough. Alaska has sat patiently for ten years while her picture was being snapped. The job is half done.

The nine-eyed giant, which has lenses that can spell out s-t-o-p on a traffic sign 14,000 feet below, was loaded aboard a Coast Guard flying fortress at Boeing Field, Seattle, this month.

Its job is "mapping" Alaska and the Aleutians preliminary to more thorough groundwork of Coast and Geodetic field surveyors. Lt. L. G. Taylor of the Survey is in charge of the immense operation of recharting coastal waters for waterborne navigation.

Only One Civilian

Although a photographer himself, Lt. Taylor's job will be lightened by the work of civilian Byron Hale. Hale is the only civilian in the B-17's nine-man crew. Seven crew-members are coast guardsmen.

Designed by Comdr. O. S. Reading of the Survey in 1936, the 350-pound goliath was rebuilt in 1944 after having been wrecked in an Adak plane crash. The only one of its kind—it cost $40,000—the king size Kodak requires such highly-skilled photographers to keep its intricate seeing apparatus in precise adjustment that mass production was discouraged.

Twenty-six thousand miles of coastline from British Columbia to the tip of the Aleutians, thence northeast to Point Barrow and on to the Canadian border is the long, ragged profile the camera must see.

Weather Troublesome

"Our camera is equal to the task. The best single-lensed aerial camera takes only a 95-degree shot, where as ours sees a 130-degree arc," said Hale.

The hardest job of the "mapping" operation is "sweating out the weather."

"Alaska under a mantle of snow is about as photogenic as a piece of paper. We try to keep ahead of winter," he said.

After a Nome-Point Barrow charting, which they hope to finish this year, it will be West into the Williwaws—those hurricane-velocity winds of the Aleutians.

Thorough Job Done By Lightning Bolt

By The United Press

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—A bolt of lightning missed little of the property of the W. T. Bigus family.

The bolt struck a tree, ripped through a garage door and knocked it off its hinges. It flashed through the back glass of the car, knocked some chrome molding off, shattered the windshield and then ran along a light wire to the house.

There it tore through the stone rear wall, knocked two holes in the kitchen wall and burned out the meter box. It continued through the house wiring, searing it to a crisp and finally knocked the door off the refrigerator.

The bolt caused no fire but left a blackened trail. It injured no members of the family.

At the conclusion of the American revolution, President George Washington issued a proclamation naming Thursday, Nov. 8, as a day for the citizens of the new nation to thank God for a constitutional form of government and the blessings which accompany it.

ATOM AID TO FARMS SEEN

Scientists Think Research Will Improve Crops and Benefit Humanity.

By The United Press

CHICAGO — The atom bomb kicked up a lot of dust in the pea patches of Nagasaki. Some good, some bad.

Dr. Raymond E. Zirkle, director of the Institute of Radiobiology and Biophysics at the University of Chicago, says radioactive peas in the Japanese city may grow to the size of a grenade—and may be just as dangerous.

Nagasaki, it may be recalled, was the second Japanese city to feel the sting of the atom bomb. The soil in that area, the scientists report, showed increased productivity of 50 to 300 per cent over the normal yield, making little peas grow into strangely big peas.

"Although atomic research offers agriculture tremendous hope for improvement," Zirkle said, "it is going to take time, money and scientific teamwork before beneficial results can be achieved on a practical scale.

Big Investment

"The University of Chicago is investing $12,000,000 in an atomic research program that may pay heavy dividends, not only in agricultural benefits, but in all fields which advance civilization."

The scientist warned that experiments with radioactive plant fertilizers may create a health hazard unless conducted or supervised by qualified scientists.

"Radioactive substances emit rays destructive to living cells," he said. "When these substances are absorbed by plants—such as peas — a concentration of them sometimes occurs in the edible portion.

"If these plants are eaten by humans, the radioactivity sometimes may concentrate further in a part of the body such as bone or liver. A sufficient amount may cause radiation by poisoning, and that is why it is necessary to check each plant that has been used in radioactive experiments."

Benefits Expected

"Despite the hazard of radioactivity," Zirkle said, "it does not preclude the possibility that agricultural benefits may result from more intensive experiments.

"Through the use of radioactive tracers, we may learn how to obtain improved soils and fertilizers, healthier plants and animals, and food products far superior to those we now know.

"Tracers are being used to help unravel the complicated phenomenon of growth. If the mechanism of growth were well understood, remarkable improvement in crops would result."

Japan Again Prepared To Welcome Tourists

By The United Press

TOKYO—Transportation ministry plans for reviving the sightseeing industry have been disclosed, with foreign tourists expected to spend 4,400,000 yen in Japan during the five-year period ending in 1952.

The tourist industry will be divided into two sections—government and private business. The government will build hotels, de luxe trains and better railways. Private interests will manage the bus lines, playgrounds, golf courses and resort hotels.

The ministry reports said tourists are expected to climb from 23,000 next year to more than 200,000 in 1952. The announcement pointed out that before the war the average visitor to Japan spent about $1,000 here.

Soviet Scientists Turn Quicksand Into Stone

By The United Press

LONDON—Soviet scientists after long research have succeeded in converting quicksand into solid foundations for buildings or preventing its formation under existing buildings, Radio Moscow reports.

The method consists of introducing under pressure two solutions—the so-called "liquid glass" and calcium chloride—into the sand. The first, the radio report said, displaces water from the sand and envelops the sand grains, and the second, reacting with the liquid glass, forms a hard compound which solidifies the ground.

Within 10 days the quicksand is converted into artificial sandstone hardly distinguishable from the natural variety.

Storekeeper Specializes In Legal Tax Evasion

By The United Press

PAGELAND, S. C.—Legal tax evasion is a specialty of Mott V. Funderburk, who lives on the North Carolina border.

But Funderburk doesn't boast a large bank account. His customers get the benefit.

When he built his general store he put it on the North Carolina side of his property to avoid South Carolina's tax on cigarets, tobacco and soft drinks.

North Carolina passed a sales tax. Funderburk picked up his cracker barrel and general grocery line and moved it into another building on the South Carolina side of the line. The cigarets and soft drinks stayed where they were in the Tar Heel state.

"With the legislators of two states trying to figure out ways to raise money all the time," Funderburk said, "it's a wonder I haven't had to scatter my stuff around any more than that."

Some Popular Yule Party Dresses

THE CHILDREN TAKE A BOW . . . And they're sure of applause for their winsome black velveteen frocks with collars of rich Venetian lace. The dresses, designed by Celeste, are among a group of fashions inspired by French tapestries at the Metropolitan Museum.

DRESSED FOR SANTA . . . She's pretty as a Christmas card in her party dress of pastel cotton trimmed in imported eyelet.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

The joy of Christmas wouldn't be complete for most girls without a new party dress as festive as the season.

This year, with the return of imported laces and fine batistes, embroidery and silks, fond parents may choose from a dazzling variety of dress-up frocks for small fry.

The perennial favorite, of course, is velveteen, trimmed in delicate lace or Irish crochet. These are available in good supply, in beautiful jewel colors such as emerald, sapphire and ruby, as well as the always popular black. Exquisite little collars of fine lace and eyelet embroidery make them dainty enough for the most particular sub-sub-deb.

Equally important in the party dress lineup are frothy little frocks of sheer batiste or fine cotton poplin, done in white or pastels and trimmed in imported eyelet embroidery or delicate lace.

Pictured herewith are three of the season's most popular styles, designed by Celeste to make little girls look like Christmas angels.

Courtesy Suggested As Traffic Solution

By The United Press

ATLANTA, Ga.—An Atlantan who decided to do something about his city's traffic problems has returned from a personal survey of once-congested cities across the country convinced that motorist "courtesy" is the No. 1 solution.

L. L. Collier went to St. Louis, Mo., Oklahoma City, Okla., and Memphis and Nashville, Tenn. He found traffice officials in all cities agreed that traffic flow is expedited by putting each motorist on his own.

This, according to Collier, is how "motorist courtesy" works:

First motorist to the intersection has the crossing right-of-way. This means that the second motorist must extend the courtesy and not try to race him across.

During rush hours, St. Louis policemen are stationed at the intersections. They let traffic flow in one direction as long as it seems feasible and are not hampered by lights.

Collier said motorist courtesy played the biggest part in solving traffic difficulties in Oklahoma City. There was no horn-blowing, no racing for lights, no trying to cheat on others.

In St. Louis, he said, motorist courtesy had even supplanted the traffic light in downtown sections. And in Memphis—where motorists are forbidden to honk their horns in traffic—and Nashville, he said, he saw no dodging or cutting ahead and, best of all, no impatience in the driver's seat.

MUCH FAT SAVED

By The United Press

NEW YORK—The American Fat Salvage Committee reported that an average of 422,000 pounds of used fats was turned in every day from August, 1942, through July, 1947. The total recovered was 810,631,613 pounds of which 184,758,846 came from the armed forces.

Marriage Success Is Achieved By Career Women

By International News Service

SALT LAKE CITY—Marriage is what you make it, say four Salt Lake City wives, who gave up promising careers in fashion designing, acting, writing and secretarial work for the vocation of keeping a family happy.

All four say they wouldn't give up cooking favorite recipes for "The Man," wiping little Johnny's nose, or baby feeding, for a weekly paycheck.

And they do not feel that they have lost touch with the world, or that life has become as routine as a robot's, or that their college educations were wasted.

One of the wives interviewed was Mrs. Bronson F. Stringham, who gained success in the field of fashion designing as Lucille Oblad, and ran her own studio.

Designed Fashions

For a while after she married, she designed fashions for a downtown store, but the arrival of a small son three years ago became her first interest, and she dropped the outside work.

Mrs. Norman C. Williams, formerly Helene Parsons, was heading for Broadway stages some five years ago. After acting in summer stock, she reached New York by way of the University of Oregon, radio and stage work.

But her plans changed when she met Norman Williams, who was studying for a doctor's degree at Columbia.

Mrs. Williams said:

"I wouldn't trade my husband, home, and Gregory 4, and Gary, 1, for marquee lights on Broadway."

The ex-Katy Evans, now Mrs. Kenneth D. Reese, was accustomed to printers ink and beating deadlines five years ago, but she too gave up the career for home and family.

Family Includes Son, Daughter

The family includes Randall Douglas, 4, and Sylvia, 10 months old.

Mrs. Briant G. Badger left a position as secretary to a Washington, D. C. congressman. Wanda West before her marriage, she held the secretarial post for Congressman Will Robinson.

She says:

"Housework and your own home is wonderful. I like it and I like baby tending. W Stephen, 3, and Barbara A months old."

SCIENTISTS SEEK OIL OFF BAHAMA ISLANDS

By International News Service

LONDON—Fifty British scientists, using planes, ships, diving bells, radar and even war-time U-boat detectors are searching for an oil field under the sea off the Bahama Islands.

Their flagship is the "Bahamas Explorer," a converted landing craft, from which scientists are lowered to the sea bed.

In shallower water, D-day Mulberry Harbors, like those used to facilitate the landing of supplies for the invasion, give a solid base for sensitive equipment.

Leading British oil companies are financing the exploration, according to the British newspaper, Sunday Empire News. The quest would have been impossible, however, if the government had not supplied modern devices.

One official of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company reported:

"It is one of the most ambitious under-water feats ever tried.

"Once the drilling sites are found there will be no difficulty in sinking wells.

"Hurricanes are a problem but the skill of our scientists can overcome this. Though we can't yet report definite results, we are full of hope."

An official of the Colonial Office said that every possible assistance would be accorded these "ocean oilmen."

Neither the scientists or the Colonial office could determine whether any oil wells which were located would be sufficiently valuable to warrant elaborate engineering plans.

In 1944, the United States devoted nearly a quarter of its productive power to the output of combat armament.

OIL SPRAY SEEN AS VEGETABLE CROP AID

By The United Press

WESLACO, Tex.—Farmers who want good carrots might try putting oil on them.

That's the advice of W. H. Friend, head of a governmental experiment station, who calls the idea one of the most revolutionary in vegetable farming in recent years.

"There have been cases where pipelines broke and flooded the soil with oil," Friend recalled, "and farmers sued and collected for damage to the soil.

"Actually there's a bacteria in petroleum that puts nitrogen into the soil. Kerosene and petroleum oils of any kind improve the soil in quality and productiveness. The cruder the oil the better."

Oiling the soil is the most economical way to keep down tiny grasses and pigweed in the carrot patch, Friend added. Besides that, the carrots grow faster if there's a film of oil on the surface, he found.

Spraying with oil chases bugs away too, Friend said. He cautioned that oil should not be applied to carrots after four leaves have appeared. If it's necessary to apply after that stage, cleaning naphtha is better. Not more than 100 gallons of distillate should be used per acre, he said.

"One spraying is often enough," he explained, "although sometimes two are required."

Hand-weeding of an acre of carrots often runs to $40 to $50 an acre but the same weeds can be killed by the oil treatment at a cost of $8.50 to $12 an acre, Friend said.

The experiment station stumbled onto the information some years ago in the pre-emergence spraying of onions, carrots and corn. Careful checking verified that oil not only was not harmful but actually helped production, friend reported.

Even with this restriction, gas will be short on the coldest days. Any gas you save now will be reserved in storage to lessen the difficulties when weather is more severe.

70 ATTEND DINNER MEETING OF M.C.Y.M.

Miami University Representative Speaks at Meeting.

Approximately 70 persons attended a dinner meeting of the Marion Christian Youth movement at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night to hear John E. Dolibois of Miami university at Oxford, O., who spoke on his experiences in service with the army intelligence division. He told of his contact with Nazi war criminals when he was interpreter at the Nazi trials in Nuremburg and of the demonstration there of American justice. Introduction of the speaker was by C. H. Bachelder. Paul Dasher acted as toastmaster. Miss Fioria Ann Lashey led group singing, accompanied by Erma Jean Hensel, and Miss Jean Latimore offered the prayer at table. A quartet composed of Miss Mary Queen, Mrs. Robert Croman, Richard Howard and William Hollower sang, accompanied by Mrs. Merwin Crandall. Miss Virginia Howard talked on the M. C. Y. M. organization and its purpose, and outlined plans of the interdenominational youth movement for the future.

Announcement was made by Miss Margaret Huffman of an Ohio youth meeting at Findlay Dec. 6 and 7. The Findlay meeting will bring echoes of the World Christian youth conference held at Oslo, Norway, this summer, Miss Huffman explained. Benediction was by Dr. Edwin A. Brown, pastor of Wesley Methodist church. A guest also was James J. Orem of Marion.

A friendship circle was formed by the clasping of hands as the meeting closed. Serving as waitresses for the dinner were students of the ninth grade home economics class of Central Junior High school, taught by Miss Ruth Roe., including Patricia Jacobs, Sharon Rose Wolf, Minnie Rinnert, Jonda Brammer, Barbara Jean Mishler and Sue Fellmeth.

Karlshorst well remarked laughingly to this correspondent that Marshal Sokolovsky would soon lack any staff, if the western powers would only offer Russians in Berlin the equivalent of 40 acres and a mule. This looking to the West is Molotov's Achilles heel. This is why such drastic propaganda is resorted to.

Unless the Anglo-Franco-American effort in west Germany is paralyzed, hereafter, by indecision, weakness and stupidity, propaganda is not to be feared. The superior magnetism, which some do oddly concede to the Soviets, is really ours. To exploit it, we need only do a decent job in Germany.

Superintendent Speaks Before School P.-T.A.

At a meeting of the North Main Street P.-T. A. Tuesday night at the school, E. E. Holt, superintendent of Marion public schools, spoke on school improvements, and on ways to make schools "better and safer housing units for school children." Mrs. John Makeever presided. She gave a report on the recent state convention at Cincinnati and expressed thanks to the association for sending her as a delegate. Plans were made for a meeting Dec. 16 at 2 p. m. at the school. Mrs. Eugene Geissler led devotions. A program include playlets presented by fifth grade pupils, piano and violin numbers by Roger Jamison and Dallas Nye, singing directed by Mrs. Bertha Sorgen, fifth grade teacher, and sixth grade girls sang directed by Miss Grace Epler. Attendance award was won by the fifth grade.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

There was really nothing surprising in Bob Hannegan's taking over management of the Cardinals . . . He's made a reputation handling Missouri boys.

* * *

But not many politicians can boast that they have a man in the White House and a man on third base.

* * *

And it's nice that an ex-letter carrier finally becomes postmaster general . . . Up until now letter carriers have had nothing to look forward to except a small pension and a large bunion.

* * *

I wouldn't want to be quoted but I understand that when Mr. Truman asked Bob, "Why are you leaving the cabinet for the dugout?" Robert answered, "I think this team can win."

* * *

It is a fact though that since Bob quit the chairmanship of the Democratic national committee he has been looking for some other good scrappy club to handle.

Methodist Festival To Be Held at Forest

Delegations from Youth Fellowship groups of Methodist churches in Marion, Marion county and this area will attend annual booth festival Friday at the high school at Forest. Rev. Cecil F. Fogle of Upper Sandusky will be in charge. At the event, which will include afternoon and evening sessions, booths erected by individual ellowships will be judged for message or theme portrayed, for artistic quality and for originality, besides naming of the one which represented greatest value in contributions. Fellowships have been gathering cash and supplies in their own localities for benefit of the Methodist children's home at Worthington and for the Flower hospital in Toledo.

C. & O. RECORD SET

CLEVELAND, Nov. 27.—The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company announced yesterday existing daily coal dumping records at its two piers at Newport News, Va., were shattered Nov. 21, with the dumping of 1,326 cars. This surpassed the previous record of 1,265 cars for a 24-hour period, established June 17, 1947, by 61 cars. The C. & O.'s two coal piers at Newport News have a monthly dumping capacity of approximately 1,500,000 tons. A third coal pier, now under construction, will increase the monthly capacity to approximately 2,000,000 tons.

It is estimated that the present number of American Indians is less than half the 846,000 believed to have lived in the United States before the coming of white men.

Stop Running to the Cellar!

Doing the Family Wash in the Basement Is As Out-of-Date As a 1929 Lady's Dress

Forget Blue Mondays! Take all of the hard work out of doing the family wash. It is fun with a Westinghouse Laundrymat. Ask the hundreds of your friends who own one.

Toss a load of clothes into your Westinghouse then go about washing dishes - go down shopping and come back in half an hour or in five hours - you don't have to check a Westinghouse. It takes care of all details with never a worry on your part.

Come back when you please and find the clothes as clean and as fresh as brand new. Smaller pieces are all ready for the ironing board - washed, rinsed better than you could do it and dried better than you could do it by hand or with a wringer. And your hands have never touched the water.

No more mangled hands or fingers caught in dangerous wringers. No more risking your life running up and down stairs. Your Westinghouse will do the job better and with less water than you use in an old fashioned washing machine And there is not a chance in the world for children to get hurt with a Westinghouse.

Get your wife, your mother out of the cellar. Get her a Westinghouse Laundromat and put it right in the Kitchen where it belongs. Where it is handy—where it will save hours and hours of hard work and where it will save broken bones.

Get HER a Westinghouse for Christmas and watch her smile.

The Westinghouse is guaranteed for five years. Try one in your own home at our risk. The whole family will love it.

CHICAGO PRINTERS STRIKE SPREADING

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 — A strike of more than 1,500 Chicago area printers spread to suburban Hammond, Ind., yesterday, resulting in the temporary suspension of the Hammond Times, but Chicago's six big daily newspapers continued publication by a photo-engraving process.

The Hammond daily newspaper was one of eight smaller Chicago area publications served yesterday with demands by Local 16 of the AFL Chicago Typographical Union to boost immediately salaries of day workers $14.50 weekly and night and "hooker" shift workers $15 weekly.

Five of the smaller publications said they would meet the demands and the remaining two have not reached a final decision.

The union's demand to the eight smaller publications was the same which led to the strike Monday night on the six big dailies. The union wanted the wage hike immediately "pending further negotiations" on other issues. The six dailies, members of the Chicago Newspaper Publishers association, replied they were willing to discuss wage proposals within the framework of a contract but that the union had adopted a no-contract policy because of the Taft-Hartley law.

Under contracts that expired Oct. 21 with the Chicago Publishers association and the eight smaller publications, day printers received $85.50 for a 36¼ hour work week and night and lobster shift workers $91 weekly. The night shift workers have a 36¼ hour week and lobster shift workers a 30 hour week.

The big dailies, which are printing photo-engraved reproductions of typewriter lettering and figures, are the Tribune, Sun, News, Herald-American, Times, and Journal of Commerce.

A few pickets continued parading at these newspaper plants but members of other craft unions were reporting for work as usual, the managements said. There were no disorders reported.

Bodies of War Dead To Be Shipped in 3 Weeks

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — The bodies of 4,212 war dead from Europe which arrived on the army transport Robert F. Burns will be shipped to their final destinations within about three weeks, an army spokesman said yesterday.

Six hundred relatives of the fallen soldiers attended a memorial ceremony for the dead yesterday at the Brooklyn Army base after the transport docked. Clergymen of three faiths participated in the services.

The Burns was the third vessel to bring war dead here since the Army began returning bodies of world war two victims last month. The 4,212 bodies were from the Henri Chapelle cemetery near Eupen, Belgium, and the cemetery at St. Laurent-Sur-Mer, France.

CIRCLE MAKES BANDAGES

A meeting of the Circle of Service, King's Daughters, was held last week at First Presbyterian church to roll bandages to send to a mission leper colony. Lunch was served by Mrs. E. E. Mason and Mrs. S. A. Cunningham. Devotions were by Mrs. W. H. Brown. Arrangements were made to send clothing and food to a needy family for Thanksgiving. Reports were given by various members on the state convention which was held in Marion recently.

LETTERS SWAMP "LONESOME" GIRL. A victim of rheumatic fever, Patsy Day, 15, of Los Angeles was very lonely until a newspaper published her story. The happy little girl is shown with her dog, Spooky, examining some of the 300 letters and gifts that came pouring in from all over the U. S.

ROPE TRICK STOPS WEST'S MAGICIANS

By International News Service

PARIS, France—With a futile attempt to imitate the Indian rope trick, in spite of a standing prize of 1,000 pound sterling, the International Congress of Magicians recently terminated a week of comparing tricks and moans.

While no Western fakir could pocket the award for the standing rope, thousands of other species of prestidigitation were demonstrated during the first get-together of the professional and amateur magicians of the world since the end of the war.

The corridors of the Hotel Lutetia, where the modern Merlins met were no place for a sane man to be. One reporter who offered a cigaret to a magician was startled to see the weed disappear up the donee's nose.

Conditions Vex Magicians

Magicians found as much reason as ordinary mortals to complain about world conditions. British magicians complained of serious shortages in the supply of silk handkerchiefs.

The French sector was unhappy about the price of eggs being too high to allow magicians to break them into the audience's hats. Still others vituperated against high taxes on playing cards.

Arnold Furst, of Los Angeles, the only American magician at the Congress, had a special problem. He found French rabbits too temperamental.

Furst wailed:

"I couldn't get one quiet enough to squeeze into my hat."

Special contests to determine the world's greatest magician also rounded out the week. Too many dead heats resulted, however, for a clear decision.

In the opinion of Dr. Jules Dhotel, president of the Congress, since 1943, the world will never again see the likes of the famous 19th century French magician Robert Houdini.

American Borrowed Name

The American magician Houdini borrowed the name from the French contrivist. Dr. Dhotel claimed that the original Houdini had developed more mechanisms and invented more contraptions than any magician in history.

However, one serious problem of the final gala banquet sent Dr. Dhotel's sorcerer-like mustache and eyebrows curling upward even higher than their habitual altitude.

As the crowds grumbled in the waiting rooms, 482 magicians flew madly about trying to make three dozen additional chairs appear out of nowhere.

TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY. Rev. Philip Hinerman of East Liverpool will speak at a Youth for Christ meeting Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Masonic hall here. A former basketball star of Cincinnati, where he attended high school, he is a graduate of Asbury seminary at Wilmore, Ky., and has been engaged in youth work more than 12 years. Special music for the meeting will be by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Donaugh and sons on vibra harp, violin, accordion, soloyox and trombones. Rev. Robert A. Maugans, pastor of Fite Memorial Baptist church, will lead group singing. Dr. C. E. Hershey will direct the service.

Bank's Burglar Alarm A Bit Too Persistent

By The United Press

HOLLISTER, Calif.—The burglar alarm at the local Bank of America branch has gone off so many times lately—because of short circuits—that Hollister's police mention it in the same breath with the old "cry wolf" fable. Time was when they used to jump at the bell, figuring burglars were at work.

Lest any itinerant safe-blowers get the wrong idea, Chief of Police Roy McPhail has told his policemen publicly that they're still to head for the bank on the double when the alarm sounds, even if it's just to call bank officials to "turn the durned thing off."

LUCAS DEFERS DECISION

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — Sen. Scott Lucas (D-Ill.), conferred with President Truman yesterday on whether to run for the Illinois governorship next year and said his decision will be announced "on or before Dec. 1." Lucas told newsmen on leaving the White House that it was correct to assume that "I have made up my mind on the question, but I am not ready to announce anything yet."

ANNUAL ANGEL-740 A. C. TILT TO START AT

Locals Set for Season Closer With Undefeated Colored 11

Last football game of the season in Marion comes off this afternoon when the Marion Safety Cab Angels meet the Columbus 740 Athletic Club in the second game of an annual Thanksgiving series at the Harding stadium. Game time is 2 p. m.

The locals beat the all colored eleven here last year, 18-6, even though the 740 club had the services of Ohio Stater Jimmy Clark.

Seven of the Columbus team were selected to play on the Middleweight league All Star team against league champs—St. Clair Big 4—next Sunday in Red Bird stadium—Lorenzo Clark, Wayman Dozier, James Wright, Ira Blackwell, Vernon Saulsbury, and Jim O'Caine.

The Angels have been hampered by bad weather in practice this week and are rusty after a two-week layoff, but Angel Coach Gene Fetter said his team had a good chance to knock off the strong Columbus aggregation.

The game will wind up the 1947 season for the Angels. They have won five and lost four and finished the Inter-State season with a two-three record.

FOUL PLAY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO — The Chicago Stags of the Basketball Association of America led the league last year in committing fouls, with a total of 1,473 in 61 games—an average of 24 fouls per game. The Stags played one game more than the regular 60-game schedule because of a playoff game with St. Louis.

TEMPLETON NAMED LINEMAN OF WEEK

Ohio State Guard Stopped Michigan's Buck-Lateral.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Although he battled for a losing cause against Michigan, Dave Templeton, Ohio State guard, received a Thanksgiving day present by being named lineman of the week in the sixth Associated Press poll of the season.

Templeton, 215-pounds of aggressiveness, was regarded as the outstanding lineman on the field Saturday as Michigan defeated the Buckeyes, 21 to 0.

Bob Hooey, of the Ohio State Journal, praised Templeton thusly:

"He was primarily responsible for stopping Michigan's buck-lateral series. He not only was lauded by members of the coaching staff and fellow players, but hailed as outstanding by Michigan players after the game."

Templeton is the first guard to win the poll this year. He formerly played at Mansfield High school. Of the previous five, three were centers, one an end and one a tackle.

Art Weiner, North Carolina end, and center Brad Ecklund of Oregon were among the other linemen praised.

JACKIE ROBINSON TO GET PAY HIKE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 — The Brooklyn Dodgers will offer Jackie Robinson a "substantial increase" in salary for the 1948 season and hope to be able to announce their 1948 manager before the close of the major league baseball meetings on Dec. 10, President Branch Rickey said yesterday.

In guarded replies to questions tossed at him during a press conference, Rickey explained he had been "working directly" on the managerial situation for the past six days and would continue to do so if he does not find it necessary to go to Miami for the minor league convention.

"If I have to go south—and I don't want to go—it will be physically impossible to announce a manager by Dec. 10," he explained.

Rickey said he had be[en] ings scheduled with either Durocher, the manager w[ho] suspended through the 1947 by Baseball Commissioner Chandler, or Burt Shotton handled the Dodgers last s[ea]. He added, however, he w[ould] be surprised if Durocher ap[pears] in this part of the country long. If Rickey does have to Miami he expects to have ton with him there.

Asked about a raise for son, Rickey said "there's no tion about it. He deserves stantial increase. I am him to come here about other things and if I get a I will talk about his contr[act].

The Dodger president tioned Robinson and Peewee as two of about a dozen he would not trade.

College Football Slated To End In Weekend of Traditional Tilts

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—The blocking and tackling will be just a little more rugged than usual during the next 72 hours, when the nation's college elevens are slated to bring their seasons to a grand climax in a rush of traditional battles.

Heading the list of today's Turkey day games will be the struggle down at College Station in Texas between the once-beaten Texas Longhorns and their arch rivals, the Texas Aggies, in which the Southwest Conference title will be remotely in the balance.

If the Lonhorns win it, as they are heavily favored to do, then the undefeated Southern Methodist Mustangs will have to beat their old rival, Texas Christian, on Saturday to gain a clear hold on the conference crown and carry a perfect record into the Cotton Bowl.

William and Mary can wrap up the Southern conference title by overrunning Richmond in their Thanksgiving tussle at Richmond. Should Richmond score an upset, then North Carolina would grab the championship regardless of the outcome of its non-league game with Virginia on Saturday.

Penn Meets Cornell

Today's big attraction in the east matches Penn's unbeaten Quakers against Cornell before a capacity crowd of 78,000 at Philadelphia. Other Thanksgiving duels around the country pit Utah vs. Utah State, Virginia Tech vs. V. M. I., Rutgers vs. Brown and Arkansas vs. Tulsa.

Saturday's slate, headed by the annual Army-Navy classic at Philadelphia before President Truman and all the generals and admirals who can get off for the day, is studded with high explosives.

Mississippi, with its stellar Conerly-to-Poole passing combination, will be gunning for the Southeastern conference crown when it takes on Mississippi State on the latter's home field. A victory would give "Ole Miss" a final conference record of six wins against a single loss.

A loss, though, could prove disastrous. Georgia Tech, with a conference mark of 3-1, entertains its traditional foe, Georgia, at Atlanta. A win for Tech, coupled with a Mississippi defeat, would shoot the Ramblin' Wreck to the top in the final standings.

Alabama, which rose to third place in the Southeastern after a poor start, has finished its conference schedule and tapers off against Miami university Friday night at Miami. Vanderbilt finishes against Tennessee at Knoxville. Maryland plays at North Carolina State.

Sooners Meet Aggies

Oklahoma's Sooners, which for the second straight year wound up tied with Kansas for the Big Six title, will play their traditional finale against the Oklahoma Aggies before listening to bowl bids. Kansas closes against Arizona. Kansas State completes its slate in an intersectional tilt against Florida. West Virginia at Pittsburgh.

Rice completes its southwest conference schedule against Baylor at Waco. Hardin-Simmons plays Texas Tech at Lubbock in the annual big game of the cowboy country. New Mexico plays West Texas State.

Vying feebly with the Army-Navy colossus for interest in the east will be the annual showdown between Holy Cross and Boston College at Boston. Both the Mid-West and Coast conferences finished their work last week.

WEST VIRGINIA GETS "HARBOR BOWL" BID

By The Associated Press

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 27—West Virginia university, whose head football coach, Bill Kern, announced his resignation Tuesday has received an invitation to play in the Harbor Bowl game at San Diego, Calif., Jan. 1, 1948, it was disclosed yesterday.

Kern, whose team has won five and lost four games this season and winds up the season Saturday against Pitt at Pittsburgh, said he was resigning effective next June 30 for the "best interests" of himself and the university.

PENN STATE, S.M.U. COTTON BOWL FOES

By The Associated Press

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 27—Powerful Penn State will match its undefeated untied record against Southern Methodist university in the Cotton Bowl here New Year's day.

Acceptance by the Nittany Lions to play in the classic was announced yesterday by Cotton Bowl Athletic Association Chairman Dan D. Rogers.

The Cotton Bowl faced the possibility of having the only game in the country matching perfect teams, with Southern Methodist one game away from an undefeated, untied season.

The Mustangs play their final game of the season against Texas Christian Saturday.

Penn State will be the first eastern eleven to play in the Cotton Bowl since Fordham met Texas A. and M. in 1941 and it will be the first team with Negro members ever to play in Texas.

Y.M.C.A. Men's Basketball Ready To Start Monday

Last Pre-Season Games Tomorrow Night; Girls, Gray-Y, Jr. High, Hi-Y Loops Seen

The Y.M.C.A. men's basketball program is set to get under way at 7 p. m. Monday with a three-game card of the Monday Night league, composed of the area's best cage teams. The Thursday night league starts play three days later.

Games scheduled Monday are Schlairet Transfer vs. Marion Merchants; Carroll's Jewelry vs. Hensel Brothers; and Green Camp K. of P. vs. McMillen Feed. On Thursday Martel Elevator will meet Commercial Steel; Sally Ann Inn vs. Stone's Grill; and Pollak Steel vs. Universal Cooler. Games start at 7 p. m.

To help finance the Y basketball program, admissions to the two leagues' games will be charged. Single admission ducats to an evening's three-game card cost 35 cents and 10-game season tickets came at $3, Bob Minard, Y athletic director, said.

Free Games Tomorrow

Basketball fans can get a look-see at the Y games for free tomorrow night when three pre-season games will be played.

Games tomorrow: Commercial Steel vs. Marion Merchants; Pollak Steel vs. Carroll's Jewelry; and Martel Elevator vs. Universal Cooler.

Besides the two men's loops, the Y has a Tuesday Night Girls' league on the fire and plans to field grade school, junior high school, and Hi-Y boys' leagues, Minard said.

Ready to go in the girls' loop are the Smitty's Maids, Universal Cooler, and Y Girls. Ward-Stilson, Martel Independents, and Harpster girls' teams are expected to join in the play this winter.

The Gra-Y loop for graders will get under way as soon as the beginners get the fundamentals of basketball, Minard said; and junior high and Hi-Y teams will start play some time in December.

The basketball play is only a part of the Y athletic program. The Y schedules regular gym classes for people from grade school age to business men. All Y members are taught to swim in special swimming classes and the Y supervises the several competitive sports such as Gra-Y touch football in the fall, basketball in the winter, and track events in the spring.

Classes for Men

The Business Men's club has late afternoon calisthenics and volleyball classes on Monday and Friday, evening classes Monday and Thursday, and badminton classes Thursday afternoon and Friday night. Also available to the men are gadgets in the health room such as an electric bath cabinet, ultraviolet and infrared lamps, and exercising, vibrating and rowing machines. The Y employes a full-time masseur, Larry Russell.

The girls, from graders to grownups, are taught by Miss Phyllis Badgley. On the girls' program are exercises, games and relays, cheer leading and rhythm dancing.

On the docket for the small fry are Gra-Y classes for boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades; plebe class for boys aged 9 and 10; prep class, 11 and 12; cadet class, 13 and 14; and Hi-Y class for boys in the city's four Hi-Y clubs.

Classes for the younger set are based on a six-point program—hygienic, self-testing, combatives, group games and relays, progressive running, and team games, including swimming and running.

Aquatic classes range from Minnows for beginners through Fish, Flying Fish, and Shark class, and small fry have to acquire 51 skills to qualify for the top class.

The program for graders is especially important since there are no gym classes in the grade schools. The Y keeps a record of the individual's athletic growth and sends a report home to parents to keep them informed.

MIAMI-U. OF C. TILT TOPS TODAY'S SLATE

Cincinnati Is Scene of Traditional Football Battle.

By International News Service

Thanksgiving, once the traditional closing date for Buckeye football teams, has lost most of its prestige, but it will produce some fine Turkey day attractions.

Heading a list of six college games is the clash between undefeated Miami and the University of Cincinnati in the Queen City.

That scrap has everything to recommend it. Traditionally, the two schools would commit mayhem to register a victory over each other. And this year, Miami will be seeking to finish the season undefeated.

The Redskins have one tie on their record, a six-all affair with Xavier. Should they get past Cincinnati, Coach Sid Gillman intimated that he may challenge Denison to a post-season state championship tilt.

The Big Red is unbeaten and untied. In 1943, the two schools battled it out for the mythical state crown in a post-season affair, and Miami won.

Cincinnati, after a rocky start, has won its last six games in a row.

Another traditional battle, pits Western Reserve against Case at Cleveland. There is nothing but history to recommend the game, for neither team has set the world afire this fall.

In other games, Baldwin-Wallace plays at Oklahoma City U.; St. Francis of Pennsylvania invades Steubnville; Rio Grande takes on the Wright Field Kitty Hawks, and Wilberforce's church school team plays West Virginia State at Columbus.

Chandler Holding Up Senator-Brown Trade

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Nov. 27—Walter Mulbry, secretary of baseball, said yesterday Commissioner A. B. Chandler is holding the transfer agreement and check in the player deal between Washington and St. Louis involving Johnny Berardino at the request of Clark Griffith, president of the Senators.

Washington recently gave Gerald Priddy and cash for Berardino, a second baseman. Berardino since then, however, has announced his retirement from baseball for a career in motion pictures.

Mulbry said Griffith asked the transfer agreement and check be held at the baseball office here until he gets in touch with both the Browns' management and the player.

Notre Dame's Brennan Still Out with Injury

By International News Service

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 27—Terry Brennan, Notre Dame left halfback, still was getting about on crutches and may be lost to the Irish for the Southern California game Dec. 6.

Trainer Hugh Burns said that Brennaan, who was injured in the Tulane game last Saturday, was a doubtful starter against the Trojans.

VEECK SHOPPING FOR TRIBE BRAIN TRUST

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 27—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians continued a search for another assistant to Manager Lou Boudreau in an effort to reorganize the baseball club's "brain trust."

The Tribe prexy, after signing Herold "Muddy" Ruel as coach, indicated he will attempt to surround Boudreau with the best coaching staff in baseball. Veeck is doing this, he said, "just to find out how much value there is in a high-class intelligence corps." Boudreau was signed to a two-year contract as player-manager earlier this week.

An announcement of the appointment of another coach will be made by Veeck before the major league executives meet in New York two weeks from now.

Ruel agreed to sign a one-year contract to coach the Indians less than 24 hours after Boudreau was signed. The Tribe's coaching staff will number five employes next year, but Veeck indicated that of last year's three aides, only Bill McKechnie will be retained.

Claridon Football Players Get Letters

The Claridon Community club held a party for the football team Wednesday, Nov. 19, at the school at which time letters were presented to the football players by the coach, William DeMora. Mr. DeMora also gave a brief talk.

Carl Lehner, president of the club, presided, and music was provided by the band under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Endsley.

Plans were made by the club to sponsor a project to buy new lights for the football field at Claridon. The next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 17 at the school with the pupils in charge of the program. Refreshments were served by a committee in charge of Mrs. Harry Price.

"We'll Knock Off Their Ears," Says Navy Coach

By International News Service

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 27—Tom Hamilton, Navy headman, isn't a devotee of the oh-my-aching head school of football coaching, and proved it yesterday with the peremptory announcement that the Navy would beat the Army at Philadelphia this weekend.

More than that, he was definitely militant about it, saying:

"We're going to knock the Army's ears off. Take that message back to Earl Blaik."

The latter's Cadet team, however, continued to rule a 13-point favorite to win the annual service classic in Philadelphia's big saucer. The Middies were scheduled to leave for the scene in time to get in a Friday workout at the field.

Michigan State Gridder Grounded by Stork

By The Associated Press

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 27.—Horace Smith, fleet Spartan halfback, was grounded by the stork yesterday and did not make the plane trip to the west coast with the Hawaii-bound Michigan State college football team.

Smith's wife, Julia Mae, gave birth to an eight-pound son at a Troy, O., hospital Tuesday, and Smith decided his place was with his wife. Coach Biggie Munn agreed.

Martin J. Kelly, Detroit right halfback, replaced Smith on the plane for the trip to Honolulu for the game with the University of Hawaii Nov. 29.

Aging Louis Training Like Youngster For Jersey Joe Walcott Title Fight

JOE LOUIS
Serious About This One

JOE WALCOTT
Rugged Type of Fighter

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeature Sports Editor

POMPTON LAKES, N. J. — To John Roxborough, the man who discovered world heavyweight champion Joe Louis the Brown Bomber's twenty-fourth defense of his title is serious business.

Roxborough, Louis' camp manager and advisor, says the aging Joe is training here for the fight with Jersey Joe Walcott in Madison Square Garden Dec. 5 as if it were his first defense of his title.

"I missed Joe's fights with Conn and Mauriello," said Roxborough, "but it does my heart good to see how fine he looks in training. This is one fight that he's going to make sure of because Joe realizes he's over the peak he attained when he was 26 and 27.

"He's 33 now, will be 34 in May, and does not have the same coordination of mind and muscle. It's the same in all sports. That's why Joe is working real hard.

"Walcott is the type of fighter who is rugged and his style can place you at a disadvantage. We have discussed all that. I like Joe's mental attitude for this fight. He is real serious about this one."

Although Marshall Miles still is Louis' manager, don't think for one minute Louis will pass up any advice from Roxbrough, the former promoter of amateur football in Detroit who interested kids, and Louis in particular, in taking to a church gym for boxing instructions.

It has been rumored that Louis does not have the security of a man who has earned more than $3,000,000 in the ring but Roxborough denies this.

"Joe has plenty of security," says John. "His future is one thing none of us worry about. Why in a very short time he will be getting about $2,000 a month alone from a soft drink firm using his name.

"Here's another thing—if he fails to look good in this fight with Walcott I'll want him to retire. Of course, if Walcott wins we have the guarantee of a return fight. But I'm not sure about Joe's condition.

"There's no telling just when he'll retire but you can say that he's going to retire undefeated. He's been fighting since early 1933 and that's a long time."

Bag limit on rabbits is four and four in possession.

BATTLE ROYAL TONIGHT

Promoter Les Fishbaugh has signed up a swell Thanksgiving Day special for the Marion wrestling fans at the Armory. The menu will start off with an appetizer of a battle royal with five side dishes, Paul Orth, Gentleman Dale Haddock, Rex Mobley, Frankie Clemons and a new Canadian, Bill Murray from Montreal.

The salad or semi-final (45-minute match between the second and third wrestler to get beat in the battle royal) will follow the battle royal.

The main course will be the two-hour main event between the last two left in the ring. All matches will be for the best two out of three falls to win.

Of course there will be the usual 10-minute prelim between Billy Wilson and Junior Fix, two local boys to open the show at 8:30. Prices for this "special" will remain the same—Gen. 75c, Ringside $1.00 and Kids 50c. Call 2745 after 6 P. M. for your best Ringside.—Adv.

Team Cuts Loose For 99 Yards In Last 35 Seconds

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Idaho—When Coach Millard F. (Dixie) Howell set out to cure a football inferiority complex at the University of Idaho he told his players never to give up.

But he never expected them to win a game with a 99-yard touchdown drive in the last 35 seconds traveling 42 yards on the final play in exactly one second.

That was one the boys figured out for themselves.

The Vandals were tied 14-14 with Portland university here this season in the last minute of a game which went scoreless in the first half and suddenly blossomed into a wild passing feud.

Portland's Danny Christianson, who had been matching Idaho's Billy Williams with touchdown passes, threw one at the Idaho end zone and Williams intercepted on his one-yard line.

Williams called time out with exactly 35 seconds left to play by the official timer's watch and with the winning touchdown 99 yards away.

The little Vandal halfback, who never played football until last year when he was drafted from a campus intramural team, faded into his end zone and threw 35 yards to end Orville Barnes who plunged on to Portland's 46.

Twenty seconds were left.

Williams dropped back again, looked in vain for a receiver and ran three yards, yelling "time out" as he hit the ground.

Officials checked the watch. One second remaining in the game. The timer was told not to fire the gun until the ball was dead.

The Vandals shifted into formation and Williams weaved back to his own 45 while he watched Woody Delorme, fleet Idaho halfback, speed toward the goal posts.

Then Bill charged forward and threw the ball with all his might. The racing Delorme caught in on the nine-yard line, juggled it on the dead run, and then hugged it close as he crossed the goal with the winning touchdown.

On the sidelines, the new Idaho coach turned back toward the field, bewildered at the roar of the crowd.

"I couldn't bear to look," Howell said.

"I still don't believe it."

Coach Says It Makes Jimmy Gray Sharper.

Jimmy Gray, deaf tackle for Tulsa's Holy Family High school football team, is pictured in action at right, and below, he receives hand signals from a teammate in the huddle.

By The Associated Press

TULSA, Okla. — Jimmy Gray's coach says the boy's inability to speak or hear has helped him to become a fine high school football player.

Jimmy, 18-years-old and weighing 157 pounds, shines at tackle for Holy Family High school. He has been deaf since birth and a series of operations and use of hearing devices have helped him none.

While many deaf institutes field sports teams, young Gray has made the grade with a team composed of players with all their physical faculties and has starred against others so equipped.

Holy Family's coach, Gallord Sartain, a former University of Tulsa gridiron ace, says Gray is stronger on defense than on the attack. The lad's deafness, he says, has tended to sharpen his eyesight so that he follows the ball better than normal players and solves opposition plays more quickly.

Calling of plays in the huddle posed something of a problem with Gray in the lineup until his teammates overcame the difficulty by working out a series of hand signals. Three of his football buddies have even picked up the sign language and can converse with him freely in this manner.

Tipsy Burglar Decides That He Went Too Far

By The United Press

CARMEL, Calif.—Mrs. B. L. Coates was dismayed when someone burglarized her home of a camera, light meter, a jeweled elk's tooth, a fountain pen and a few items of jewelry. She was amazed a week later when all of the loot was returned in a parcel post package mailed from Los Angeles. Also enclosed was an unsigned note which said:

"I am returning your things that I picked up one night while intoxicated. This is everything I found on my person when my mind began to function properly. Please forgive me for this awful thing I have done. I swear I'll never drink again."

Egypt Pushes Sinai Desert Reclamation

By The Associated Press

CAIRO—The Egyptian government has spent more than $200,000 in its preliminary plan to convert 5,000 acres of the wild, barren Sinai peninsula into fertile fields.

The plan called for the construction of two dykes to store the rainwater falling in abundance in the Valley of El Arish, which starts in the heart of Sinai and extends 100 miles northward to the Mediterranean.

One of the dykes, the El Rawafa Dam, is already in operation and the stored waters have been used to irrigate the surrounding land. Work on the second dyke, at the mouth of the valley, has begun. A 12-mile asphalted road will link the two dams.

These two dams are considered the first of a series of schemes to render 500,000 acres of Sinai's unexploited, lightly-populated desert agriculturally productive and provide possible living space for some of the Nile Valley Kingdom's 17,000,000 Egyptians.

According to agricultural experts, a branch of the Nile used to run through Sinai. They contend that the innate fertility of much of the land remains undiminished and point to the productiveness of similar desert regions in adjoining Palestine.

MEEK LITTLE MAN KILLS TATTOOED WIFE

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27—A mild little man who admitted he married the tattooed lady in the circus, "because she asked me to," was convicted of manslaughter yesterday.

Lawrence Riemer, 33, meek-appearing and apologetic before the court, was accused of strangling his 53-year-old bride of four months.

Riemer was accused of using his belt to strangle his wife in their bedroom apartment last summer after they had celebrated the fourth month of their marriage at a waterfront tavern.

Riemer, taking the stand in his own defense testified:

"She asked me to marry her. She was tattooed all over, but I figured I might as well. I was lonely. I wanted a home.

"She got the license. Then I found out that she was like a wild woman—a human devil."

Then he told this story of the party:

"She was sitting with some sailors—showing them her tattoos.

"Finally I got her to go home and on the way she began hitting me. I said 'Petee don't do that—married for peace'."

When they reached home, he said, they continued drinking and he eventually went to sleep. He told the court that when he awoke he saw the belt around his wife's neck and called an ambulance.

Judge Sherbow deferred sentence. Conviction of manslaughter carries a penalty of up to 10 years' imprisonment.

SECTION OF CIGARET LAW HELD UNCONSTITUTIONAL

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27—The Ohio supreme court yesterday held unconstitutional that portion of the "unfair cigaret sales act" governing wholesale prices, on grounds that it failed to recognize the difference in overhead operational costs.

The decision was given in an action brought by Walter G. Serrer of Cleveland, a wholesaler, against three of his local competitors, the Cigarette Service Co., the Mooreland Tobacco Co. and Archwood Tobacco Co., to enjoin them from selling cigarets at $1.42 a carton which he claimed cost $1.43.

Serrer sells on credit and makes deliveries while his competitors do a cash and carry business.

OFFICIAL PREDICTS TURKEY PRICE RISE

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 — It may cost you more if you wait until Christmas to have that turkey dinner.

An agriculture department expert said today that the price of light turkeys probably would increase between Thanksgiving and Christmas, reflecting higher storage costs.

Turkeys are scarcer than last year, but the supply is still far above pre-war levels, he said, and the price of all poultry has remained relatively low, compared with red meat prices. This year's per capita turkey supply is about 4.1 pounds, as compared with a record high of 4.5 pounds last year.

The official disclosed that the government, thus far, had bought no chickens under its purchase program announced two weeks ago. The market price generally has been above the "floor price" announced by the government, he said.

The purchase offer, designed to help farmers get grain-consuming fowl to market, will remain in effect until Dec. 31, and possibly longer, he said.

RADIO RECORDING MADE ON COUNTY GAME REFUGE

H. A. Rider, state conservation commissioner, O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, and radio station WHKC made a transcription Tuesday relative to the Hoch state game refuge, from a lookout on top of Fred Hoch's house in Big Island township. This is the only farm in Ohio which the conservation division has a lease for 99 years as a game refuge. Neimeyer leased this farm about 25 years ago and he has live trapped thousands of pheasants there for release in other parts of Marion county. In 1944 pheasants from this farm were used as brood stock at the Urbana state game farm.

In the future the division of conservation will conduct its game propagation program along the lines of this refuge.

HEARING POSTPONED

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Nov. 27 — A public hearing on new minimum wages for women and minors in the hotel and restaurant industries was postponed yesterday until Dec. 17 because of the pending special session of the state legislature. The hearing before the state industrial relations director was to have been held Dec. 3 but was delayed because of the legislative session and crowded conditions of Columbus hotels, Assistant Industrial Relations Director Carl Nappi said.

Report Smuggling Of German Nazis

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK, Nov. 27—An authoritative source said yesterday a widespread Nazi organization with branches in many parts of Denmark and Sweden had smuggled between 150 and 200 German Nazis out of the two countries in the last 18 months.

Seven Germans have been arrested by Danish state police, the source said, since a German doctor was detained recently as he was about to emplane for Argentina.

STOCKS CLOSE DAY AT NEW LOW MARKS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 27—Stocks sagged for the fifth consecutive session as early improvement of some industrial favorites failed to attract support in yesterday's market.

Utilities were neglected and slid into new low territory for two years or more. Some aircrafts and farm implements displayed relative resistance. A few issues responded to the continued flood of extra and increased dividend announcements but many fell back despite such news.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite dropped another .3 of a point to 64.4, while the average of 15 utilities dipped to 39.9. Of 971 issues registering in the harrowest market since Nov. 17, there were 442 losers and 291 gainers. Total transfers of 910,000 were the best this week and compared with 860,000 Tuesday.

Commission houses said caution engendered by doubts over domestic anti-inflation moves and foreign developments was heightened by the usual reluctance to make commitments before today's Thanksgiving day recess.

Declines of a point or more were registered by Youngstown Sheet at 76, Wesson Oil at 49½, Mission Corp. at 46½, American Can at 80½, Montgomery Ward at 53½, Woolworth at 44 and Owens-Illinois at 71.

New 1947 highs were attained after dividend news by Anaconda Wire & Cable which finished at 75¼, up ¼, and by Inspiration Consolidated Copper, ahead 1 at 17½.

GRAIN MARKET

Local Grain Market

(Quotations by the Marion Grain & Supply Co.)

Wednesday price after 2 p. m.: Wheat 3.03; No. 3 white oats 1.15.

Range

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 27—Recovering from the preceding session's shaking out, grains bounded up for gains extending to more than 4 cents in wheat on the board of trade yesterday. Prices did not get up to new seasonal high levels.

Wheat led the upturn largely on a denial by an unnamed commodity credit corporation official of Tuesday's rumor the government buying agency was withdrawing from the cash wheat market. The bread cereal's strength finally aided corn, which had dropped several cents in early dealings.

Wheat closed 3 to 4½ higher, December $2.13¾-¾, corn was 1½-3¾ higher, December $2.54½-.55, oats were 1¼-2¼ higher, December $1.24¾-¾, and soybeans were 3 to 6½ higher, March $3.30-3.32.

Although officially still in the market, the CCC was not buying much, the agency took only 25,000 bushels of wheat at Minneapolis and 10,000 bushels at Chicago Tuesday; nothing was bought at Kansas City and private trade reports said the agency was "not interested" in offers there yesterday.

Outlook for the new crop continued to worry the grain trade. Cargill, Inc., said "ideal conditions between now and next spring may materially alter the outturn, but present prospects are for a reduction of something like 350,000,000 bushels from the record of 1,086,000,000 bushels of winter wheat produced this year."

Mr. Conscientious Motorist
1221 Reliable St.
Dependable, Ohio

Dear Sir:

Your presence in our service department last week caused us to pause momentarily and give the matter careful consideration.

We noticed the friendly attitude our service department personnel extended you while you were asking about needed repairs to your car. You, as is true with thousands of motorists, were puzzled about various mechanical workings of your car, and our personnel, as busy as they were, took time to explain the nature and need of the necessary repairs. They realized that you wanted and deserved the truth.

Then we watched while our service manager explained the accurate estimate of the cost and the time your car would be available. You left our office completely assured that your car would receive the finest attention possible and that it would be ready at the stated time.

We appreciate your business and we know you will not hesitate to return when the need arises again because we, too, now understand why you placed such confidence in our men.

Very truly yours,

War Veterans Differ In Taste for Reading

By The United Press

The younger veterans chose as their favorites for the first three months of the year such best sellers as "The Egg and I," "The Black Rose," "Peace of Mind" "Lydia Bailey," "The Foxes of Harrow" and "The White Tower," among others.
